
Contents

Chapter One: The Self-Organizing Mind	1
The Miracle of Spontaneous Organization	8
The Human Body: A Colony of Cells	10
The Emergence of Mind	11
The Emergence of Self	19
Context Switching	20
Sports and Creative Thinking Modules . .	24
The Mind as a Computer	26
Chapter Two: Getting to Know Your Self
Module	29
The Self Module as Press Secretary	36
Gap Filling	37
Blindness Denial	41
Other Fabrications	44
Why Did You Do That?	46
“I Wasn’t Myself”	48

Chapter Three: Time and Consciousness	51
Backdated Memory	56
Is Consciousness in Control?	58
Is Consciousness Continuous?	61
Chapter Four: Memory Illusions	65
Memory Gap-Filling	69
Changing Memories	73
The Challenger Disaster	77
Modular Memory	79
Brain Damage Evidence	80
Parallel Memory Structures	81
Explaining versus Doing	82
Chapter Five: Other Concepts of Self	85
The Self in Other Cultures	90
The Concept of Time	93
Pain: A Learned Concept	96
The Boundaries of Self	99
The Self-Concept in History	102
Chapter Six: False Beliefs	111
Why We Have Wars	114
Winners and Losers	118
Denial: Ignoring the Unthinkable	119
The Placebo Effect	124
Mental Illness	126
Financial Beliefs	128
Urban Legends	129
An Urban Nightmare	131
Belief in Magic	133
Auras and ESP	134

Chapter Seven: Hypnosis and Other Altered States	139
Hypnotism: Believed-in Imaginings	142
Creating Hidden Observers	146
Creating Multiple Consciousness	149
Chapter Eight: Psychotherapy and Multiple Personalities	153
Lobsters and Unicorns	156
Finding Your Modules	159
Psychotherapy and Reality	162
Treating the Offending Modules	164
Training Your Fight Module	165
Psychiatry and False Beliefs	169
Satanic Memories	172
Chapter Nine: The Infant Brain	177
The Beginnings of Spontaneous Organization	183
Language Development	187
Language and the Left Brain	188
Development of the Self-Concept	192
Self-Control	193
Identifying Your Modules	195
Chapter Ten: Nonverbal Thinking	199
Words: Useful but Dangerous	202
Nonverbal Consciousness	206
Creative Thinking	207
Improving Your Creativity	210
The Reptilian Brain	212
Nonverbal Logic	215
The Logic of Emotions	216
Flow: Silencing the Self Module	219

Using Sports and Crafts	220
Developing Sensuous Thinking	222
Chapter Eleven: Love—Merging the Self	227
The Biological Basis of Love	230
Smell and Sexual Chemistry	232
Body Language	233
The Concept of Love	235
Love and the Liberated Woman	237
The Love Module	239
Sensuous Love	241
Chapter Twelve: The Empty Self	245
Filling the Void	248
New Concepts of Control	249
The Meaning in Life	252
Relearning Your Reality	253
Appendix One: The Cognitive Revolution	255
The Split-Brain Experiments	258
The Cognitive Revolution	264
Appendix Two: A Summary of Conclusions	267
Notes	273
Selected Bibliography	291
Index	305