

Contents

Preface, page v

Introduction, page 1

Chapter One, page 9

The Nature of the Problem of Creativity for the Psychologist

Chapter Two, page 18

The Measurement of Creativity: Definitional and Psychometric Considerations

Chapter Three, page 25

Tests of Originality, Ingenuity, and Esthetic Judgment

Chapter Four, page 39

Creativity and Intelligence

Chapter Five, page 52

A Method for the Intensive Study of Creative Persons

Chapter Six, page 57

Establishment of the Criterion: Architecture as Example

Chapter Seven, page 63
Creative Writers, Mathematicians, and Architects

Chapter Eight, page 79
Innovators in Business Management in Ireland

Chapter Nine, page 93
Productive Scientists

Chapter Ten, page 105
Creative Women

Chapter Eleven, page 114
Stability and Change in Creative Thinking Abilities

Chapter Twelve, page 125
Nurturing and Encouraging Creativity

Chapter Thirteen, page 131
Increasing Individual Creativity through Special Educational Experiences

Chapter Fourteen, page 148
Creativity and Altered States of Consciousness

Chapter Fifteen, page 160
Foundations in Childhood of Creative Experiencing

Chapter Sixteen, page 170
Cycles of Innocence and Experience

Appendix, page 182
Ideas for Social and Economic Innovation in Ireland

References, page 195

Selected Bibliography, page 201

Name Index, page 209

Subject Index, page 211