	“Kinds of Thinking”	5
	Thinking and Behavior	6
	Summary	7
CHAPTER 2	HISTORICAL PROBLEMS IN THE STUDY OF THINKING	9
	The Mind-Body Problem	11
	The Mechanism of Thinking	16
	Content and Structure of Thought	17
	Characteristics of Experience	21
	Characteristics of Consciousness	23
	Summary	30

CHAPTER 3	MEMORY, MOTIVATION, AND INTELLIGENCE	31
	The Role of Memory	31
	The Role of Motivation	33
	The Role of Intelligence	40
	Summary	42
CHAPTER 4	RELATIONS BETWEEN PERSON AND ENVIRONMENT	45
	Models of Person-Environment Relations	46
	Immediate Behavioral Events	56
	Signal Detection	57
	Subliminal Effects	62
	Perceptual Defense	67
	Summary	71
CHAPTER 5	THEORIES OF COGNITION	73
	Theories of the Thinking Process	76
	The Motor Theory	78
	Behavioral Theory	83
	Mediation Theory	89
	Intrinsic Organization	91
	Information Processing	95
	Guilford's Model	102
	Summary	104
CHAPTER 6	CONCEPTUAL DEVELOPMENT OF CHILDREN	105
	What Is a Concept?	105
	Basic Problems of Concept Formation	108
	Methods of Investigation	109
	Theoretical Perspectives	110
	Summary	125
CHAPTER 7	CONCEPTUAL BEHAVIOR IN CHILDREN	127
	Causality	127
	Conservation and Transitivity	130
	Other Kinds of Concepts	137
	The Conception of Stages	138
	Evaluating Piaget	140
	Conditions Affecting Children's Concepts	141
	Summary	148

CHAPTER 8	THEORY AND METHOD IN THE STUDY OF CONCEPT ATTAINMENT	149
	Methods	150
	General Theories of Concept Attainment	152
	The Continuity-Discontinuity Controversy	154
	All-or-None Theory	164
	Information Processing	171
	Summary	174
CHAPTER 9	CONDITIONS RELATED TO CONCEPTUAL BEHAVIOR	177
	Concrete and Abstract Performance	178
	Types of Classification Rules	180
	Meaning	182
	Connotative Meaning	185
	Variations in Complexity	193
	Conditions of Practice	196
	Strategy	201
	Cognitive Style	204
	Motivation	209
	Summary	211
CHAPTER 10	VERBAL LEARNING	213
	Phases of Verbal Learning	214
	Basic Variables	217
	Meaningfulness	219
	Connotative Meaning	227
	Associative Processes	228
	Mediation and Transfer in Verbal Learning	232
	Temporal Factors	240
	How Does Mediation Work?	244
	The Broader Context	246
	Summary	248
CHAPTER 11	PROBLEM SOLVING	249
	Experimentation on Animals	251
	Human Processes of Problem Solving	254
	Research on Insightful Principles	258
	Modes of Attack	268
	Information Processing	273
	Summary	276

CHAPTER 12	EFFICIENCY IN REASONING AND PROBLEM SOLVING	277
	Formal Logic	277
	Scientific Method	278
	The Syllogism	280
	Experimental Studies of Syllogistic Reasoning	281
	Scientific Reasoning	290
	Anagrams	291
	Developmental Trends	293
	Sex Differences	294
	Problem Solving Ability	296
	Conditions of Training	296
	Strategy	298
	Set	299
	Motivational Variables	301
	Individual versus Group Problem Solving	304
	Summary	309
CHAPTER 13	IMAGINATION	311
	Imagery	312
	Studies of Imagery	316
	Imagination	318
	Play	319
	Summary	328
CHAPTER 14	FANTASY AND DREAMS	329
	Projective Techniques	329
	Fantasy	333
	The Study of Fantasy	335
	Dreams	339
	Extreme Forms of Thought	350
	Summary	352
CHAPTER 15	CREATIVE THINKING	353
	Defining Creativity	354
	Processes of Creative Thinking	356
	An Associative View	361
	Creative Abilities	363
	Personality Characteristics	365
	The Creative Person	371
	Criticism	378
	Summary	379

CHAPTER 16	THE INTERNALIZATION OF EXPERIENCE	381
	Beginnings of Experience	383
	How Experience is Internalized	384
	Cultural Determinants	392
	Parent-Child Relationships	397
	Identification	400
	Imitation	401
	Suggestion	406
	Sympathy	407
	Redirecting Activities	410
	Summary	410
CHAPTER 17	EGO AND SELF	411
	Ego Mechanisms	412
	Repression and Sublimation	413
	Ego-defensive Functions	417
	Ego-constructive Functions	425
	The Self	427
	Summary	433
CHAPTER 18	THE SUPEREGO AND VALUES	435
	Origins and Character of the Superego	435
	Moral Development	440
	A Revised Conception	442
	Transgression, Compliance, and Equity	446
	Altruism and Helping Behavior	451
	Values	456
	Summary	461
CHAPTER 19	SOCIAL ATTITUDES AND PREJUDICE	463
	Properties of Attitudes	465
	Techniques of Measurement	466
	General Attitudes	470
	Authoritarianism	473
	Dogmatism	477
	Prejudice and Stereotyping	479
	Summary	484
CHAPTER 20	OPINION CHANGE	487
	Variables in Opinion Change	489
	Balance Theory	489

Balanced and Imbalanced Situation	493
Further Derivatives: Consistency Theories	494
Cognitive Dissonance	496
Other Theories	502
