Preface ix

1. Learning from Experience and Suboptimal Rules in Decision Making 1

Hillel J. Einhorn

Learning from Experience: How? 2

Learning from Experience: How Well? 5

Selection Task 9

Factors Affecting Positive Hits and

False Positives 12

A Model for Determining Positive Hit Rates 15

Conclusion 17

2. On the External Validity of Decision-Making Research: What Do We Know About Decisions in the Real World? 21

Ebbe B. Ebbesen and Vladimir J. Konečni

The Issue 21

The Evidence 23

Some General Implications of Task Specificity 39

Summary 42

- 3. Decisions That Might Not Get Made 47
Ruth M. Corbin
Introduction 47
A Behavioral Classification of Nondecisions 49
Motivations Involved in Not (Yet) Deciding:
Theoretical Concepts and Measures 57
Summary and Discussion 61
- 4. Analyzing Decision Behavior: The Magician's Audience 69
John S. Carroll
The Knowledgeable Decision Maker 70
The Adaptive Decision Maker 71
The Representation of the Task 72
What Is Decision Behavior? 74
Methods for Studying Decision Behavior 74
Conclusions 75
- 5. The Very Guide of Life: The Use of Probabilistic Information for Making Decisions 77
Gordon F. Pitz
A Theory of Probabilistic Information Processing 78
Methods Used to Study Decision Making Under Uncertainty 85
A Brief Review of Some Experimental Results 87
- 6. Information Processing Theory: Some Concepts and Methods Applied to Decision Research 95
John W. Payne
Problem Representation 96
Process Tracing 99
A Suggestion for Research 111
Conclusion 112
- 7. Knowing What You Want: Measuring Labile Values 117
Baruch Fischhoff, Paul Slovic, and Sarah Lichtenstein
When and How People Might not Know What They Want 118
Psychophysics of Values 120
Overview 122
Defining the Issue 123

Controlling the Respondent's Perspective	127
Changing Confidence in Expressed Values	129
Changing the Respondent	130
Implications for Respondents	134
Implications for Elicitors	135
Conclusion	137
8. Know, Then Decide	143
Gregory R. Lockhead
Consider the Observer's Perceptions	143
Early Stimulus Events are Important	146
Inconsistencies in Value Judgments	148
An Historical Precedent	149
A Suggested Framework	151
9. Real Money Lotteries: A Study of Ideal Risk, Context Effects, and Simple Processes	155
Kenneth R. MacCrimmon, William T. Stanbury, and Donald A. Wehrung
Introduction	155
Research Issues	158
Our Study	161
Results and Discussion	164
Conclusions and a Simple Process Model	171
10. Current Developments in Research on Cascaded Inference Processes	179
David A. Schum
Introductory Comments	179
Major Roots of Present Endeavors	180
Current Research on Cascaded Inference	188
On the Relation of Cascaded Inference to Other Mental Processes	204
A Look Ahead	208
11. Comments on the Chapters by MacCrimmon, Stanbury, and Wehrung; and Schum	211
R. Duncan Luce

12. Processes and Models to Describe Choice and Inference Behavior 215

Thomas S. Wallsten

Formal Models 215

Processing Theories 218

Formal Models and a General Theory 220

Inferences Based on Multidimensional Information 223

Final Comments 234

13. Process Models of Probabilistic Categorization 239

Michael Kubovy and Alice F. Healy

The Method of Externally Distributed Observations 240

Taxonomy 241

Active Models 243

Passive Models 258

Conclusions 259

14. Comments on Directions and Limitations of Current Efforts

Toward Theories of Decision Making 263

William K. Estes

Common Aspects of Decision Models 264

Task Orientation Versus Process Orientation 268

Decision and Cognition 270
