

Contents

Preface	page vii
List of contributors	ix
Introduction	1
Part I The role of the environment in creativity
1 The conditions of creativity	11
Beth A. Hennessey and Teresa M. Amabile
Part II The role of the individual in creativity
Psychometric approaches
2 The nature of creativity as manifest in its testing	43
E. Paul Torrance
3 Putting creativity to work	76
Frank Barron
4 Various approaches to and definitions of creativity	99
Calvin W. Taylor
Cognitive approaches
5 A three-facet model of creativity	125
Robert J. Sternberg
6 Problem solving and creativity	148
Robert W. Weisberg
7 A computational model of scientific insight	177
Pat Langley and Randolph Jones
8 Freedom and constraint in creativity	202
Philip N. Johnson-Laird
9 Creativity as a mechanical process	220
Roger C. Schank

Part III The role of the individual–environment interaction in creativityThe study of creative lives

- 10 Inching our way up Mount Olympus: the evolving-systems approach to creative thinking 243
Howard E. Gruber and Sara N. Davis
- 11 Creativity: dreams, insights, and transformations 271
David Henry Feldman
- 12 Creative lives and creative works: a synthetic scientific approach 298
Howard Gardner

The study of creative systems

- 13 Society, culture, and person: a systems view of creativity 325
Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi
- 14 Creativity and talent as learning 340
Herbert J. Walberg
- 15 The possibility of invention 362
D. N. Perkins
- 16 Creativity, leadership, and chance 386
Dean Keith Simonton

Part IV Integration and conclusions

- 17 What do we know about creativity? 429
Twila Z. Tardif and Robert J. Sternberg
- Author index 441
- Subject index 447