

Contents

Preface	ix
1. Overview of Behavior Modification	2
Characteristics of a Behavioral Model • Role of Thoughts and Feelings • Question of Symptom Substitution • Misconceptions About Behavioral Methods
2. Some Basic Terminology and Concepts	20
Operant Behavior: The Importance of Consequences • Respondent Behavior • Interaction Between Respondent and Operant Behavior • Role of Symbolic Processes • Generalization • Use of Conditioned Reinforcers
3. Important Features of Behavioral Practice	70
Understanding the Client's View of the Problem • Forming a New Conceptualization of the Problem • Structuring Counselor-Client Contacts • The Therapeutic Context • Securing the Client's Involvement

4. A Framework for Assessment 96
- Response Factors • Topographic Description Versus Functional Analysis • Consequences of Behavior • Antecedents of Behavior • Varieties of Problematic Behavior • Motivational Versus Behavior Deficits • Inhibitions Versus Behavior Deficits • Factors to Consider During Assessment • Examples of Behavioral Assessment • Sources of Assessment Information*
5. Steps in Assessment 132
- Collection of a Problem Profile and Beginning Problem Definition • Establishing Priorities and Initial Specification of Objectives • Forming a Counselor-Client Contract • Specifying Behaviors, Related Situations, and Client Assets • Identifying Personal and Environmental Assets • Limiting Personal and Environmental Factors • Forming Hypotheses About Functional Relationships • Selecting a Monitoring Procedure and Gathering a Baseline • Identifying Objectives • Reactive Effects of Assessment*
6. Locating Environmental and Personal Resources 178
- Reinforcers • Significant Others • When Direct Work with Significant Others Is Not Possible • Available Contexts for Change • Response Cost or Punishing Events • Discovering Personal Assets*
7. Observation and Recording 198
- Observational Procedures for Identifying Behaviors and Relevant Antecedents and Consequences • Recording the Frequency, Duration, or Magnitude of Behavior • Gathering Data Describing a Group • Effects of Monitoring Behavior • Determining the Quality of Data • Use of Incentives*
8. Selection and Evaluation of Intervention Plans 232
- Surveying Alternative Plans • Evaluation of Alternative Plans • Selection of the Best Alternative • Formulation of Specific Steps in the Change Plan • Implementation of Change Plan • Selection of a Monitoring Procedure • Guidelines for Record Keeping • Graphing Data • Evaluating the Effectiveness of Intervention • When Intervention Fails • Generalization and Maintenance of Change*

9. Behavioral Intervention with Children, Adolescents, and Their Families 280
- Assessment • Training Significant Others in Effective Reinforcement Practices • Contingency Contracts • Token or Point Programs • Negotiation Training • Example of Contingency Contracting and Negotiation Training • Training Program for Parents of Aggressive Children • Use of Videotape Feedback • Encouraging Completion of Parent Training Programs • Siblings as Mediators • Dependent Children • Whining and Complaining • Noncompliance • Decreasing Children's Fears*
10. Enhancing Marital Interaction 358
- What is a Good Marriage? • A Behavioral View of Marriage • Assessment • Intervention • Learning to Cue and Offer Positive Consequences for Desired Behaviors • Example of a Behavioral Approach to Marital Counseling • Brief Reciprocity Counseling • Working with Only One Partner • Marital Therapy in Groups • Guidelines for Maintaining Positive Changes • When Separation is Decided On*
11. Anxiety Reduction Procedures for Specific Stressors 438
- Behavioral Components of Anxiety Responses • Development and Maintenance of Anxiety • Establishing a New Conceptualization of Anxiety • Assessment • Overview of Anxiety Reduction Procedures • Symbolic Desensitization Incorporating Self-Management Skills • Developing Self-Instructions and Coping Behaviors • Self-Directed Desensitization • Arranging Practice in the Natural Environment • Responses Incompatible with Anxiety • Covert Modeling • Reinforced Practice • Modeling and Reinforced Practice • Guided Participation • Anxiety Induction Procedures • Restructuring the Social Environment • Illustration of the Use of Multiple Anxiety Reduction Methods • Selection of Anxiety Reduction Procedures • Evaluating Progress*
12. Developing Self-Management Skills for Regulating Stress 492
- Use of Stress Inoculation Training with Multiphobic Clients: Self-Instruction Training • Rational Emotive*

- Therapy (Rational Restructuring) • Thought Stopping • Coping Skills That Emphasize the Role of Affective Reactions • Role of Problem-Solving Skills • Learning How to Handle Anger*
13. Development of Effective Social Skills 530
- Definition of Effective Social Behavior • The Situational Nature of Ineffective Social Behavior • Components of Effective Social Behavior • Assessment • Social Skill Training • Social Skill Training with Psychiatric Patients • Social Skill Training to Increase Social Contacts • Social Skill Training for Adolescents • Developing Job Interview Skills • Role of Physical Characteristics in Interpersonal Exchanges • When Direct Assertion Fails or May Have Negative Consequences • When Not to be Assertive • Learning How to Deal with Rejection • Self-Management Aspects of Effective Social Behavior • The Assertive Person*
14. Behavioral Intervention with Depression 602
- Theories of Depression • Assessment • The Risk of Suicide • Intervention • Case Examples • Sleeping Problems*
15. Behavioral Intervention with Problem Drinkers 666
- Some Mistaken Beliefs About Problem Drinking • The Effects of Alcohol • Learning to Abuse Alcohol • Drinking Patterns of Problem Drinkers Compared to Nonproblem Drinkers • Assessment • Intervention • Self-Management of Drinking • Arranging Contingencies in the Natural Environment That Support Sobriety • Aversive Conditioning • Blood Alcohol Concentration Discrimination Training • Case Example • Selecting Goals: Abstinence or Controlled Drinking • Generalization and Maintenance*
16. Drug Abuse 720
- Myths About Drug Abuse • Learning to Abuse Drugs • Assessment • Intervention*
17. Behavioral Intervention in Educational Settings 746
- Assessment • Intervention • Decreasing Dysfunctional Emotional Reactions Related to School • Increasing*

- Interaction with Peers • Creating a Positive Self-Image • Self-Instructional Methods • Developing Effective Study Habits*
18. Behavioral Procedures for Health-Related Problems 810
- Assessment • Respiratory Disorders • Neurological and Muscular Disorders • Obesity • Anorexia Nervosa • Other Disorders Associated with the Gastrointestinal System • Genitourinary Problems • Cardiovascular Disorders • Dermatological Disorders • Decreasing Aversiveness of Health Care • Rehabilitation • Chronic Pain and Illness*
19. Severe Behavior Disturbances 874
- Childhood Autism • Use of Behavioral Methods with the Mentally Retarded • Clients Labeled Psychotic • Obsessive-Compulsive Behavior • Hysterical Reactions*
20. Sexual Behavior 922
- The Sexual Response • What Is a Sexual Problem? • Assessment • Intervention • Increasing Sexual Functioning • Sexual Variations • Decreasing Deviant Sex-Role Behaviors in Children*
21. Residential Settings 994
- Transitional Facilities • Facilitating Successful Transition from the Hospital to the Community • Prosthetic Environments • Establishing and Maintaining Appropriate Staff Behavior*
22. Ethics of Interpersonal Helping 1024
- Selection of Outcomes • Selection of Procedures • The Issue of Consent • Impact of Recent Legal Decisions • Ensuring Ethical Standards in Institutional Settings • Ethical Practice Guidelines • The Limits of Individual Discretion • Are Special Ethical Guidelines Required for Behavioral Methods? • Importance of Training Programs and Supervision • Ethical Considerations Concerning Records • Actualities and Possibilities*

23. Needs and Prospects of Behavior Modification	1080
Toward Increased Recognition of Individual Differences • Relationship of Research and Practice • Increasing Client Self-Determination • Encouraging an Actualizing Model of Change • Counseling for Prevention • Using Available Information • Increasing Accountability • Developing a Coherent Terminology
References	1093
Indexes	1185
Name Index • Subject Index	