

Table of Contents

Gaby Pailer: Introduction	7
I. Gender – Laughter – Media: Theoretical Crossings	15
Stefan Horlacher: A Short Introduction to Theories of Humour, the Comic, and Laughter	17
Andreas Böhn: Subversions of Gender Identities through Laughter and the Comic?	49
II. Gender B(l)ending: The Comic Impact of Cross-Dressing and Body Alteration	65
Jessica Hamann: “Kiss a white Galathea, she will laugh and blush”: Laughter, Blush, and Gender Roles in Gottfried Keller’s Novella Cycle A Formula for Love. The Epigram (1881)	67
Beth Pentney: “A comic turn, turned serious”: Humour, Body Modification, and the Natural in Fay Weldon’s The Life and Loves of a She Devil	81
Raluca Cernahoschi: “From now on, I am Carmen”: Imagining Cross-Dressing as Comic Protest in the Life and Work of Romanian-German Author Franz Hodjak	93
Ulrich Scheck: Where No Woman Has Gone Before: Humour and Gender Crossing in Star Trek’s Voyager and Enterprise	103
Markus Hallensleben: “To be educated is to become a Harlequin”: Cross-Skinning as Carnivalesque Hybridity in Michel Serres, Hannah Höch’s Dada, and Orlan’s Body Art	119
III. Cross-Cultural Encounters: Race, Gender, and the Comic	139
Gaby Pailer: Multi-Layered Conflicts with the Norm: Gender and Cultural Diversity in Two Comedies of the German Enlightenment	141
Sabine Wilke: Indigenous Laughter: The Voice of the Other in Tales from the “South Seas”	155
Gabrijela Mecky Zaragoza: Subverting the Pantragic Heroine: Nestroy against Hebbel	169
Jakub Kazecki: Black and White in Color or Black Victory? The Comic Effect of Displacement in the Film Noirs et blancs en couleur (1976) by Jean-Jacques Annaud	187

Karin Lornsen: The City as Stage of Transgression: Performance, Picaresque Reminiscences, and Linguistic Incongruity in Emine S. Özdamar's The Bridge of the Golden Horn	201
IV. Gender, Genre, and the Comic: Literature, Radio, Television, and Cinema	219
Andreas Seidler: Moral Ideal and Physical Desire: Gender Roles, Sex, and Comic Elements in the Rococo Tales of Christoph Martin Wieland	221
Birte Giesler: Social Satire, Literary Parody, and Gender Critique in French and German Fairy Tales of the Enlightenment: Jean-Jacques Rousseau and Friederike Helene Unger	233
Ellie Kennedy: "But I'm a Lady!" Undoing Gender Bending in Contemporary British Radio Comedy	251
Peter Stear: Mockumentalism: Re-Casting the Void in Contemporary British TV Comedy	269
Christine Mielke: Couples and Friends: Comic Strategies and Social Structures in German and American Comedy Series	285
Frank Degler: Affirmative Humour in Bully Herbig's Parody of Star Wars/Star Trek: (T)Raumschiff Surprise	297
V. Comic Strategies: Gender and Laughter in Literature, Theory, Communication, and Art	313
Susanne Bach: May I Laugh about Women's Lib? or: The Difficult Relationship of Humour and Feminism in Margaret Atwood, Caryl Churchill, and Helen Fielding	315
Stefan Börnchen: Aletheia as Striptease: Gendered Allegories of Truth in Heidegger, Gorgias, and Barthes	329
Volker Helbig: Judith Butler and the Problem of Adequacy, or: The Epistemological Dimension of Laughter	347
Caroline L. Rieger: Comparing Same-Gender and Opposite-Gender Conversations: a Laughing Matter?	355
Oliver C. Speck: The Joy of Anti-Art: Subversion through Humour in Dada	371
List of Contributors	383