

Contents

Notes on the contributors	vii
Editor's introduction	viii
1 On the nature and role of representations in self's understanding of others and of self Rob Farr and Serge Moscovici	1
2 Personality traits: in the eye of the beholder or the personality of the perceived? Sarah E. Hampson	28
3 Information integration in person perception: theory and application James Shanteau and Geraldine F. Nagy	48
4 Multiple cue person perception Alexander Lovie	87
5 Problems of context and criterion in nonverbal communication: a new look at the accuracy issue Dane Archer and Robin M. Akert	114
6 The good judge of others' personality: methodological problems and their resolution Mark Cook	145

vi Contents

7	Implicit personality theory and the employment interview Mitchell Rothstein and Douglas N. Jackson	167
8	Person perception in the employment interview Richard D. Arvey and James E. Campion	202
	Name index	242
	Subject index	248