

Contents

Introduction .....	1
--------------------	---

Part I: The Prussian Partition and the Polish Nation without a State

Chapter One. Posnania: The Prussian Part of Poland .....	11
Prussia and Poland before 1800 .....	12
Poles, Prussians, and Napoleon .....	19
The Era of the Spring of the Nations: Bismarck's Rise to Power and Kulturkampf .....	23
The Revolution of 1848 in the Grand Duchy of Poznań .....	27
Chapter Two. Prussian Writers vis-à-vis the Poles: From Dedication and Admiration to Critique and Condemnation .....	37
Prussian Polish Literature .....	37
The Making of a Prussian Polish Lyric: Polengedichte and Theodor Fontane .....	39
Fontane vis-à-vis Gustav Freytag: the Image of Prussia and Bismarck in Their Literary Works .....	45
Fontane's First Historical Novel: Polish Motifs in Vor dem Sturm .....	48

Part II: Galicia: the Polish "Imagined Community"

Chapter Three. Galicia in the Nineteenth Century .....	61
Historical Background .....	61
Galicia from Its Roots to the Peasant Uprising of 1846 .....	62
Galicia after 1848 .....	65

Chapter Four. Images of Galicia in Nineteenth-Century
Literature: Marie von Ebner-Eschenbach.....	69
Marie von Ebner-Eschenbach and the Polish Nation.....	69
Der Kreisphysikus .....	70
Peasants' Uprising of 1846 Revisited: "Jakob Szela" (1883).....	78
Chapter Five. Jan Lam and Galician Society .....	85
Lam in the Galician Public Eye .....	86
Panna Emilia czyli Wielki Swiat Capowic (1869).....	88
The Historical Setting .....	93
Conclusion .....	98

Part III: Poland and Russia: the Situation in Kongresówka

Chapter Six. Galicia and Kongresówka in the Time of the January Uprising of 1863: Wielopolski's Realpolitik .....	101
Kongresówka: The Russian Partition. The Historical Background.....	101
Before the Uprising: Kongresówka in 1861 .....	105
Galicia and the January Uprising .....	112
Chapter Seven. The January Uprising and Lam's Response:
Pan Komisarz Wojenny and Koroniarz w Galicji .....	117
The Politics of Fiction .....	119
The Question of Aristocrats .....	124
Conclusion .....	133
Notes.....	139
Bibliography .....	157
Index.....	165