

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface	IX
Sigla	XII
Introduction	1
I. Sixteenth Century Colmar	12
A. The geographical location: its significance	12
B. The social structure and political constitution of the city community	16
C. Colmar as a member of the Alsatian Decapolis	22
D. Colmar's ecclesiastical institutions	25
E. The intellectual life	34
II. From the social and religious unrest of the 1520's to the introduction of the Reformation in the neighboring principality of Horbourg-Riquewihr in 1535	37
A. Community and church at the beginning of the 1520's	37
B. The city government and the church in the early 1520's	41
C. The urban unrest of 1524/25	44
D. The conditions and causes of the unrest	56
E. Colmar's ecclesiastical, religious and social policy following May, 1525	64
F. The Reformation movement in Colmar, 1525-1535	69
III. From 1535 to the Peace of Augsburg, 1555	71
A. The introduction of the Reformation into the neighboring territory of Horbourg-Riquewihr	71
B. The ecclesiastical politics of the city government	74
C. Hieronymus Boner and Matthias Guntzer: their influence on city politics	84
D. The Reformation movement, 1535-1555	90
IV. From the Peace of Augsburg, 1555, to the introduction of the Reformation in 1575	94
A. The impact of the Augsburg treaty on urban church politics in Alsace and in Colmar	94

B.	The influence of the Reformation in Haguenau on the religious climate in Colmar: 1565-1574	95
C.	Gradual shifts in the official church policy, 1555-1575	99
D.	The joint mission of Haguenau and Colmar deputies to the imperial court in Vienna (November, 1574-January, 1575)	108
E.	The Reformation movement, 1555-1575	111
V.	The Protestant community and church from 1575 to 1628	124
A.	The ministerial recruitment and doctrinal development of the Protestant church: The transition from Lutheranism to Calvinism	124
B.	The communal institutionalization of the Reformation	154
VI.	The late city Reformation in Germany	163
A.	The characteristic aspects of the Colmar Reformation	163
B.	The Reformation in Essen, Dortmund, Aachen, Aalen and Haguenau	169
C.	Patterns of the late city Reformation in Germany	196
	Bibliography	206
A.	Manuscript Sources	206
B.	Printed Sources	207
C.	Literature	208