

Contents

Language	7
1. Ronald Kim (Wrocław University) On the prehistory of Old English dyde	9
2. Vibeke Jensen (University of Stavanger) OE long /ɑ:/ words in some fourteenth and fifteenth century Yorkshire texts	23
3. Ewa Ciszek (Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań) Some aspects of word-formation in Henryson's Fables	37
4. Matti Kilpiö (University of Helsinki) Causative habban in Old English	43
5. Janusz Malak (Opole University) Preposition stranding in Old English	67
6. Justyna Rogos (Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań) Transcribing and editing graphetic detail in the manuscripts of Chaucer's Man of Law's Tale	79
Literature	87
7. Rafał Boryslawski (University of Silesia) The riddle of poetry: Literary riddles and modern hermeneutics	89
8. Barbara Kowalik (University of Warsaw) The motif of journey in Cynewulf's Fates of the apostles	99
9. Rory McTurk (University of Leeds) External prolepsis in Beowulf	113
10. Klára Petříková (Charles University, Prague) "Alle we beoth in the worldes wode weater". Water imagery in Ancrene wisse	131
11. Piotr Spyra (University of Łódź) Clean but impatient: Pearl-poet's Jonah in the face of the Lord	147