

Contents

Preliminary Notes

I. Desire, Devil, The Other: The Uses of Demonic Literature	p. 1
II. The Devil-Pact As Foregrounding Device: Gautier de Coinci, Rutebeuf, Spieß	p. 9
III. Goethe's Faust and the Quest For the Lost Desire	p. 15

1. Balzac's Laicized Demonism

I. Devil-Contracts In La Comédie humaine : Between Money and Mandarins	p. 31
II. La peau de chagrin and the Dialectic of Energy	p. 36
III. Vautrin and Utopia	p. 68

2. Disrupting the Canon, Pulverizing the Self: Flaubert

I. Desire In Textual Wilderness	p. 77
II. La Tentation de Saint Antoine : The Book About Everything	p. 84
III. Flaubert and the Evacuation of Utopia	p. 121

3. Bulgakov: The "Evil One" and the "evil ones"

I. The Diffraction of Evil	p. 129
II. The Master and Margarita : Utopia In Times of Anguish	p. 136
III. Bêtise and Others	p. 155

Appendix. Gérard de Nerval: The "Beautiful Idiot"

p. 161

Works Cited

p. 181

Index

p. 189