

Contents

Introduction
Some Questions, Assumptions and Problems Involved in Associating Dyssocial Behavior with Disorders of Cerebral Function by Joseph E. Bogen	1
Frontal and Temporal Lobe Lesions and Aggressive Behavior by Arthur Kling	11
Evaluation of Organic Factors in Patients with Impulse Disorders and Episodic Violence by Frank R. Ervin	23
Brain Stimulation and the Origin of Violent Behavior by Elliot S. Valenstein	33
The 47, XYY Chromosomal Abnormality: A Critical Appraisal with Respect to Antisocial and Violent Behavior by Saleem A. Shah	49
Research Strategies for the Study of Human Violence by Robert Plutchik, Carlos Climent and Frank Ervin	69
Legal Implications of Psychosurgery by Roger F. Johnson	95
Brain Control in a Democratic Society by Robert J. Grimm	109
Subject Index	151
Author Index	153