

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	iv
Preface	ix
Background	1
Wagnerism	9
Wagnerian Writers
The Nineteenth Century:
Precursors and Earliest Supporters—Sand, Balzac, Flaubert, Nerval, Gautier, Champfleury, Banville, Baudelaire	13
Middle and High Wagnerism — Judith Gautier, Catulle Mendès, Villiers de l'Isle-Adam	23
Symbolism and la Revue Wagnérienne — Dujardin, Mallarmé, Wyzéwa, Schuré	35
Minor Writers—Merrill, Rod, Vielé-Griffin, Mauclair, Mockel, Bourges, Céard, Morice, Péladan	53
Poets — Verlaine, Laforgue, Ghil	61
Novelists — Zola, Huysmans, Proust	69
The Twentieth Century:	75
Mallarmé's Heirs — Valéry, Claudel, Gide	77
Other Wagnerians, Belgian and French — Maeterlinck, Rolland, Apollinaire	81
Non-French Wagnerians — English Aesthetes and Pater, German Scholars, Rilke and Thomas Mann	83
A Special Case — Claude Lévy-Strauss	85
Conclusions	89

Appendix I

La Revue Wagnérienne — Contributors and Contributions 101

Appendix II

Sonnets by lesser known Wagnerian poets — Ajalbert,
Fourcaud, Gramont, Mikhaël, Mourey, Pigeon,
Quillard, Richepin, Vignier — who contributed to La Revue Wagnérienne for the series,
“Hommages à Wagner” and “Oeuvres de Wagner” 105

Appendix III

A. First Performances of Wagnerian Operas in Paris 115
B. French Works of Art Inspired by Wagnerian Operas 116
C. The Earliest French Translations of Wagner's
Theoretical and Critical Works 118

Bibliography 121

Index 129