

Table of Contents

HANS-JÜRGEN GRABBE

Introduction 7

PETER VOGT

Different Ideas about the Church: The Theological Dimension in the Transfer and Adaptation of German Religious Groups to the Pennsylvania Environment, 1683–1740 17

WOLFGANG SPLITTER

Divide et impera: Some Critical Remarks on Halle Missionaries'
Formation of a Lutheran Church in Pennsylvania 45

DONALD F. DURNBAUGH

J. C. Sauer and H. M. Mühlberg: German-American
Protagonists in Colonial North America 93

NORMAN J. THREINEN

Friedrich Ziegenhagen: The London Connection to India and America 113

THEODORE RUNYON

German Pietism, Wesley, and English and American Protestantism 135

CARLA MULFORD

Benjamin Franklin, Pennsylvania Germans, and the Ethnic Origins of Nations 147

CAROLA WESSEL

The Impact of Halle Pietism on North America as Reflected in German-Language Broad­sides 161

MARK HÄBERLEIN

A Tenuous Relationship: Halle Pietists and Their Parishioners
in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, 1748–1815 179

MARIANNE S. WOKECK The Pfarrhaus as Model in Defining German-American Identities	207
PAUL BAGLYOS From Pietism to Virtue: Frederick Augustus Conrad Muhlenberg in Halle and Philadelphia	225
RENATE WILSON The Second Generation: Pietist Clergy, Commerce, and the Commerce scientifique in the New Republic, 1780–1820	233
STEVEN M. NOLT “Mingle Our Religious Concerns with the Affairs of the State”? Nationalism, Reform, and Pennsylvania Germans in the Early Republic	257
DAVID ELLIS Echoes of Halle: Halle’s Contested Legacy in Prussia and the United States in the Nineteenth Century	273
A. GREGG ROEBER Creating Order with Two Orders of Creation? Halle Pietism and Orthodox Lutherans in the Early American Republic	289
List of Contributors	309
Index of Personal Names	317