

July, 1972	3	Comment
December 6, 1972	8	A Letter to the Fifty Signers
April 3, 1973	11	An Inquiry
Harold M. Proshansky	13	Social Response and the Politics of Scientific Controversy
Abraham Edel	31	The Scientist and His Findings: Some Problems in Scientific Responsibility
Robert Cancro	49	Race, Reification, and Responsibility
David Layzer	59	Behavioral Science and Society: The Nature-Nurture Controversy as a Paradigm
Harland Padfield	80	Social Marginalization: Toward a General Theory of Inequality

Allan Chase	99	False Correlations Equal Real Deaths: The Great Pellagra Cover-up, 1914-1933
Ernest Drucker Victor W. Sidel	113	Scientific Freedom: Sacred Principle or Secular Politics?
Gerard Piel	123	“ . . . Ye May Be Mistaken ”
James C. King	134	Padfield-Herrnstein and Layzer-Jensen
Evelyn A. Mauss	137	The Science Information Movement: Non-Partisan but Not Neutral
Ethel Tobach	142	Behavioral Science and Genetic Destiny: Implications for Education, Therapy, and Behavioral Research
	159	Index