

Die Weihnachtssterne meines Neffen

Heike Bollig antwortet
Barbara Buchmaier

Was macht den Fehler zur Attraktion? Schadet Erfolg der Selbstkritik? Passen Soziologie und Kunst zusammen?

Seite 11

Löcher in unseren Hosen
Bollig/Buchmaier

"These pair of jeans have been treated and damaged to achieve a used and rugged look. The lifespan is therefore shorter than a normal pair of jeans. Half the life but double the look" (Originalwerbung ACNE Jeans).

Der Stellenwert von Fehlern in Kunst, Kommerz und Alltag.

Seite 39

Blick auf den Alexanderplatz
Heike Bollig

Lässiges Spektakel oder traurige Kleinkriminalität?
Überlegungen zur Widersprüchlichkeit partizipatorischer Kunst anhand eines praktischen Beispiels.

Seite 71

Inhalt / Content

My nephew's Christmas stars
Heike Bollig answers
Barbara Buchmaier

Holes in our pants Bollig/Buchmaier

A Glimpse of Alexanderplatz
Heike Bollig

What is it that turns the error into an attraction?
Does success damage self-critique? Are sociology and art in line with each other?

Page 25

“These pair of jeans have been treated and damaged to achieve a used and rugged look.
The lifespan is therefore shorter than a normal pair of jeans.
Half the life but double the look” (original ACNE Jeans advertising).
The significance of errors in art,
commerce and daily life.

Page 61

Casual spectacle or sad misdemeanor?
Considerations on the contrariness in participatory art by means of a practical example.

Page 79