

Content

1 Teaching religion in a multicultural European society	7
Hans-Georg Ziebertz and Ulrich Riegel
2 Concepts and methods of the empirical study	13
Ulrich Riegel and Hans-Georg Ziebertz
3 Austria: facing plurality	21
Robert Schelander
4 Belgium: the hermeneutic-communicative model - a feasible option?	31
Didier Pollefeyt
5 Czech Republic: teaching religion versus religious plurality - a closed circle?	45
Ludmila Muchová and František Štěch
6 Finland: the Finnish RE teacher – a modern traditionalist	57
Antti Räsänen and Martin Ubani
7 Germany: teachers of religious education - mediating diversity	69
Ulrich Riegel and Hans-Georg Ziebertz
8 Ireland: the teachers’ perspective on goals of religious education	81
Christopher Alan Lewis, L. Philip Barnes, Patricia Kieran, Sharon Mary Cruise, Leslie J. Francis and Conor Mc Guckin
9 Italy: tradition based openness to pluralism	97
Francis-Vincent Anthony
10 Latvia: religious education in the eyes of teachers	113
Laima Geikina and Anta Filipšone
11 Malta: accentuated similarities between catechists and religious educators	125
Adrian-Mario Gellel
12 The Netherlands: Who is afraid of RE? The Dutch?!	137
Leo van der Tuin and Tuur de Beer
13 Norway: common compulsory religious education	153
Heid Leganger-Krogstad and May Britt Esse Berge

14 Poland: faithfulness to God and to people.....	169
Marian Zajac and Pawel Makosa
15 Romania: Teaching religion – is there room for plurality?	181
Korinna Zamfir and Magda Robu
16 Slovakia: educational goals and methods in religious education in a post-communist country.....	199
Dana Hanesová
17 Sweden: non-confessional and confessional education	211
Christina Osbeck and Per Pettersson
18 Switzerland: educational pluralism in confessional religious education ..	227
Dominik Helbling, Ulrich Riegel and Monika Jakobs
19 Europe in a comparative perspective: religious pluralism and mono-religious claims.....	241
Friedrich Schweitzer, Ulrich Riegel and Hans-Georg Ziebertz
20 Educational goals in theology and religious studies - a comparison between university and secondary school education in Europe	257
Carl Sterkens
References	275
Index	289
Tables	291