

Table of Contents

Christian Voß / Alexandra Ioannidou Introduction	7
 1. Setting the Agenda: Slavic Studies in the 21st century
Klaus Steinke On the Importance of the Slavonic Languages in Europe after 1989	11
Lew N. Zybatow EuroComSlav: Slavic Languages for a Multilingual Europe of the Future	19
 2. Migration and Linguistic Hybridity
Kira Kaurinkoski Gendered Migration Patterns and Experiences of Ukrainian Immigrants in Greece	39
Dieter Stern What Kind of Pidgin is Taimyr Pidgin Russian?	57
 3. Perceptions of Slavs in Greece
Spyros Marchetos A Slav Macedonian Greek Fascist? Deciphering the Ethnicophrosyne of Sotirios Gotzamanis	67
Tasos Kostopoulos Naming the Other: From “Greek Bulgarians” to “Local Macedonians”	97

Vemund Aarbakke
Myth and Fantasy in the Greek Discourse on the Domestic Slav Vernacular 121

Raymondos Alvanos
Conflicting Perceptions of
Slavic in Greek Macedonia during the Interwar Years 147

4. Early Soviet Cinema

Stavros Alifragkis / François Penz
Man with the Movie Camera – Constructing
Visions of Happiness in the Ideal Socialist City of the Future 165

Panayiota Mini
Vsevolod Pudovkin's Chess-Fever (1925) in its Historical Context 201

5. Literature and Art

Mirjam Goller
Last Exit Humankind? New
Anthropological Aspects in Literary Interpretation and Theory 213

Katerina Mavromichali
Art into Production. The Role and
Function of Porcelain from the George Costakis' Collection 239

Maria Tsantsanoglou
The Truth of Art and the Art of Pravda 259

Syrago Tsiara
Revising Socialist Realism. An Introduction to its Historiography 269

Alexandra Ioannidou
Addendum 277