

Contents

Map x

Book IX (1509) 2

Maximilian returns to Trento 1 · Many towns are retaken by Venice 3 · Preparations of the Venetians for the defense of Padua and attacks on the enemy 5 · Francesco Gonzaga, Marquis of Mantua, is captured by the Venetians 10 · Padua is attacked by Maximilian 13 · Girolamo Savorgnan's achievements for the Republic 23 · Maximilian abandons the attack on Padua 30 · Decision by decree to destroy everything around Padua 32 · Events in Dalmatia, Istria, and Friuli 33 · Vicenza is taken by the Venetians 37 · War is declared by the Senate and waged on Alfonso d'Este 43 · The Republic's army is sent to Verona in vain 44 · Many towns are retaken by Venice 46 · Progress of the fleet sent against Alfonso d'Este 47 · The Venetian fleet is crushed by Alfonso 56 · A parent is punished for using his daughter as a concubine 59 · A way to placate Pope Julius is found by the Senate 60

Book X (1510) 80

Battle of Venetians with Maximilian's forces at the San Martino bridge 1 · How satisfaction was given to the king of Hungary for payments 2 · At the request of Adria, the Senate grants a magistrate and ships for their self-protection 3 · Various sallies of Maximilian's forces from Verona; death of Niccolò Orsini 4 · Exchange of prisoners with the French 5 · Various battles and skirmishes between Alfonso d'Este and the Venetians, and also between the Venetians and

Maximilian's forces around Verona 6 • Julius receives the Venetian ambassadors and annuls the bull of excommunication 10 • Ambassadors sent to make peace with Maximilian return unsuccessful 11 • Laws passed for the purpose of collecting funds 12 • Attack on Verona attempted in vain 14 • Law excluding relatives of priests from the Senate in matters involving the pope repealed 16 • Uncertainty of Julius' plans 17 • Deliberations of the Senate concerning the selection of a captain-general 23 • Invasion of the Republic's territory by the French 26 • A new Fondaco de' Tedeschi is built 31 • Vicenza is taken by the French along with many other towns; cruelty of the French toward those taking refuge in tunnels 35 • Friuli invaded by the forces of Maximilian 36 • Legnago is captured by the French 38 • Death of the cardinal of Rouen 39 • Treaty of Julius and the Venetians with the Swiss 40 • Various sallies of Germans, Venetians, and French, and lesser battles; sedition of island of Lesina put down 41 • Weapons from the Council's armory given to Renzo da Ceri 45 • Death of Caterina Cornaro 49 • Fleet sent to Julius against Genoa 50 • Progress of the French army against the Venetians; King Ferdinand of Spain sends the white horse to Julius as tribute 51 • Francesco Gonzaga, Marquis of Mantua, is discharged by the Venetians 53 • Monselice is taken by the French 58 • Death of Giovanni Sforza; start of the war of Julius with Alfonso d'Este 59 • Lucio Malvezzi is declared captain-general of the Republic's army; the Salt Office is reduced from six men to four 60 • Julius' attempts against Genoa unsuccessful, and return of fleet to Civitavecchia 61 • The king of Hungary declares war on Venice, but does not wage it 62 • Julius' edict against Alfonso, and his abuse directed at the king of France 67 • Venice and the pope again send a fleet to Genoa 68 • Modena is taken by the pope 71 • Plans of the Venetians for taking Brescia 75 • Invasion of the Swiss into territory held by the French 76 • Law passed concerning the magistrates who take care of the Republic in the Senate 78

Book XI (1510–1511) 162

The Venetian fleet heads for Genoa with the pope's troops, encounters the French fleet, and returns unsuccessful 1 • The pope makes his way to Bologna, and his war against Alfonso d Este 4 • The Venetians attack Verona and lift the siege 5 • The Venetian fleet, sent against Alfonso, is crushed 9 • A second fleet is sent against the same, and actions taken on land between them 10 • Defeat of the French near Montagnana 11 • Francesco Gonzaga, Marquis of Mantua, is named captain-general of the Venetian and papal armies 13 • A law on electoral corruption is passed at Venice 15 • Venetian sally into the Tesino district 18 •
The Venetian and papal armies are joined against Alfonso, and their achievements 20 • The pope excommunicates the French 25 •
An army is again sent to Verona and retreats from there unsuccessful 28 • Concordia is taken by the Venetians 31 •
A two-headed baby is born in Venice 32 • French defeat at the Secchia river 33 • Mirandola is taken by Julius 34 • Julius cedes Modena to Maximilian 35 • Alfonso routs Julius' army 38 • Earthquake in Venice and on the mainland 42 • Concordia is retaken by the French 46 • Bologna is taken by the French and the Bentivoglio; the Venetians are crushed near Bologna by mountain bands 48 •
Cardinal Alidosi is slaughtered by Francesco Maria della Rovere 53 •
Julius' edict against Bologna 56 • A Council is declared at Pisa, and the pope is summoned to it 58 • Various battles in Friuli 59 • Defeat of the Venetians near Verona 68 • Treviso is fortified by wondrous artifice 78 • Doge Loredan congratulates Bartolomeo da Mosto on his election as a senator 81

Book XII (1511-1513) 248

Defeat suffered in Istria at the hands of Frangipane 1 • Advances of the French and Germans in Friuli and elsewhere 2 • Illness of Julius; Pesaro is handed over by Julius to Francesco Maria della Rovere 4 • Destructive raids by the Germans from the Alps 7 • Incursions of the French all the way to Lio Maggiore 16 • Treaty of Venice with Julius and the king of England 19 • The French and Germans besiege Treviso, and their departure 21 • Law passed concerning the creation of a new magistracy for the Arsenale 26 • Army sent to recover losses in Friuli, and its achievements 28 • Vicenza returns to the dominion of the Republic 29 • Julius strips of their cardinalate those who had convened the Council of Pisa 31 • Pietro Balbo appointed to negotiate for Venetian merchants in Egypt 32 • Fighting at Muggia in Istria and Cormons in Friuli 33 • Maximilian's representatives negotiate for passage to Rome 34 • Offer from the Swiss of aid against the French accepted 38 • Skirmishes at Gradisca in Friuli 40 • Brescia and Bergamo are taken by Venice 45 • Various peace negotiations with Maximilian 51 • Bologna, under siege by the papal and Spanish forces, is liberated by the French 54 • Defeat of Venice at Villafranca 55 • Brescia is conquered by the French 57 • Twelve ambassadors of the Swiss come to the city 63 • Truce between Maximilian and Venice 65 • Battle of Ravenna 67 • Opening of the Lateran Council 74 • Ravenna is recovered by the pope with its fortress 75 • The Swiss join the Venetian army, and their achievements 77 • Bologna surrenders again to Julius 78 • The French are driven from towns in Lombardy and Piedmont 80 • Selim wrests the sultanate from his father Bayazid, and his embassy to Venice 81 • Genoa is taken by Giano Fregoso 82 • Alfonso d'Este is released from Julius' interdict, and flees from Rome 83 • The Swiss are called by Julius "Defenders of the Church of Rome" 85 • Julius' unsuccessful attempts against

Alfonso 88 • Return of the Medici to Florence; Julius excommunicates the king of France 90 • Venice retakes Crema 91 • Defeat of the French in Gascony 92 • Venice renews her treaty with the sultan of Egypt 93 • The viceroy of Naples seizes Brescia 95 • Treaty of Julius with Maximilian, his alienation from Venice, and death 98 • Election of Giovanni de' Medici as Pope Leo X 103

Note on the Text and Translation 339

Notes to the Text 341

Notes to the Translation 343

Bibliography 355

Index 357