

Contents

Preface to the English Edition	4
Preface	5
List of Photographs	8
Foreword	10

Photographs

The Forbidden City in Beijing	11
The Imperial Palace in Shenyang	71

Text

Historical Records on Palace Architecture

—— From Primitive Crude Houses to Magnificent Buildings

I. The Primitive Phase	112
II. Rise of the Imperial Palace	112
III. Wei Yang Palace	113
IV. Da Ming Palace	113
V. Bianliang	114
VI. Five Capitals	114

The Forbidden City in Beijing

—— A Bright Pearl as a Crystallization of Wisdom and Hard Toil

I. Basis for Planning of the Forbidden City	116
II. Architectural Design	122
III. Architectural Construction and Decoration	133
IV. Construction Work	136

The Imperial Palace in Shenyang

—— A Jewel of Manchu, Han, Mongolian and Tibetan Architecture

I. Development of the Capital City and the Erection of the Imperial Palace	140
II. General Layout of the Imperial Palace	142
III. Design of Individual Palatial Buildings	145
IV. Architectural Decoration	146

Appendices

General Plan of the Forbidden City in Beijing -----	150
Front Elevation, Section and Plan of the Hall of Supreme Harmony -----	152
Timber-Framed Construction of the Hall of Supreme Harmony -----	154
Roofing with Glazed Tiles on Hipped Roofs -----	156
Roof Forms of Palace Halls -----	157
Sumeru Bases -----	158
Architectural Details in Various Dynasties -----	159
Qing-Style Decorative Paintings -----	160
General Plan of the Imperial Palace in Shenyang -----	162
Que and the Meridian Gate -----	164
Restoration Design of Ancient Palaces -----	165
Glossary -----	166

Notes on the Photographs

The Forbidden City in Beijing -----	168
The Imperial Palace in Shenyang -----	177

Maps and Chronology

A Map of Historic Sites of Capital Cities and Palaces -----	184
The Forbidden City, Historic Sites and Scenic Spots in Beijing -----	186
Chronology of Major Events in the History of Chinese Architecture -----	187