

Contents

Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xv
1	Research and Critical Evaluation 1
	Follow the Seven Steps of Research, but Be Flexible! 2
	Step One: Define Your Research Question 2
	Step Two: Ask for Help 4
	Step Three: Develop a Research Strategy and Locate Resources 5
	Step Four: Use Effective Search Techniques 7
	Step Five: Read Critically, Synthesize, and Seek Meaning 10
	Step Six: Understand the Scholarly Communication Process and Cite Sources 11
	Step Seven: Critically Evaluate Sources 13
2	Finding Books and Ebooks 21
	Books and Scholarly Research 21
	Use Books as a Shortcut 22
	Use a Subject Encyclopedia to Start Your Research 23
	Use Bibliographies and Web Guides to Locate Key Resources 25
	Use Reference Books to Locate Quick Factual Information 26
	Find Reference Books 28

Use Scholarly Books for a Broad and Deep Overview	29
Use Ebooks for Research	33
Do Not Read the Entire Book	34
Don't Use Books If . . .	34
Use Filtering Devices to Deal with Information Overload	35
Critically Evaluate Books	35
3 Scholarly and Popular Articles	41
Identify and Use Scholarly Journal Articles	42
Use Magazine and Newspaper Articles When Appropriate	43
Choose Databases to Search for Articles	44
Develop Effective Search Strategies	46
Locate Articles	51
Use Open Access Journals, Preprint Servers, and Institutional Repositories/University Web Sites	51
Evaluate Articles	53
Understand the Role of Informal Information Sources: Personal Web Pages, Blogs, and Wikis	57
4 Primary Sources: Online Tools and Digitized Collections	61
What Are Primary Sources?	62
Understand the Types of Primary Sources	63
Plan Your Research Strategy	66
Find Digitized Primary Source Collections on the Web	68
Find Primary Sources Using the Online Library Catalog	73
Visit Your Special Collections Department	74
Find Historical Newspaper and Magazine Articles	75
Use Special Microform Collections of Primary Sources	79
Critically Evaluate Primary Sources	79
5 Biographical Research	85
Develop a Strategy	85
Find Critical Essays and Brief Factual Information	86
Find Published Autobiographies and Biographies	89
Find Biographical Writings by Lesser-Known Individuals	91

Critically Evaluate Autobiographies and Biographies	95
Find Diaries	97
Critically Evaluate Diaries	102
Find Oral Histories	105
Critically Evaluate Oral Histories	109
Validate Biographical Writings Using Secondary Sources	111
Use Biographical Web Sites with Caution	111
Critically Evaluate Biographical Web Sites	113
6 Legal Research	115
Find Primary and Secondary Legal Resources	116
Find Case Law	116
Use Secondary Sources to Find Related Cases and Analysis on Points of Law	118
Understand Citations to Court Cases	120
Use a Legal Dictionary to Decipher Legal Terms	120
Find Supreme Court Cases	120
Find Lower Federal Court Cases	121
Find State Court Cases	122
Determine Whether a Case Is Still “Good Law”	123
Critically Evaluate Legal Resources	123
7 United States Government Documents and Statistics	129
Find Federal Agency Documents	130
Find Presidential Information Sources	132
Find Legislative Information	136
Find Government Documents from Other Countries and Resources from Intergovernmental Organizations	144
Critically Evaluate Government Documents	145
Find Statistics	147
Critically Evaluate Statistics	150
8 Citing Sources, Avoiding Plagiarism, and Organizing References	153
Develop a System for Taking Notes	154
Steer Clear of All Types of Plagiarism	158

x | Contents

Choose a Style Manual	159
Choose a Documentation Style	160
Use the Following Examples from the Chicago Manual of Style to Format your References	161
Use Bibliographic Software to Cite Your Sources	164
Bring Evaluation into the Process	164
Appendix: Specialized Journal Article Databases: Indexes and Full Text
	167
Glossary	179
Title Index	187
Subject Index	195