

CONTENTS

Series Editor's Introduction	7
Preface	9
1. Introduction	11
Gaining Perspective on Children and Divorce	12
Some Family Transitions in Divorce	13
An Overview of This Book	14
2. Some Cultural, Historical, and Demographic Perspectives	16
The Changing Family	17
A Brief History of Marital Dissolution in the United States	22
Demographics of Divorce in the United States Today	26
Summary	32
3. Methodological and Conceptual Issues in Divorce Research	33
Methodological Issues	33
Interpreting Correlations between Marital and Child Problems	39
Longitudinal Research and Temporal Influences on Children's Divorce Adjustment	42
Summary	46
4. Cross-Sectional Research on the Adjustment of Children of Divorce	48
Utilization of Mental Health Services	49
Externalizing Problems	51
Internalizing Problems	54
Academic Competence	57

Sex-Role Behavior	60
Social Competence	63
Adjustment during Adult Life	65
Summary	69
5. Family Processes and Children's Divorce Adjustment	71
Temporal Influences: Age at Divorce, Current Age, and Passage of Time	71
Separation from an Attachment Figure	80
Children's Relationships with Their Residential Parents	81
Children's Relationships with Their Nonresidential Parents	86
Interparental Conflict	94
Remarriage	98
Economic Factors	99
Summary	103
6. Intervening in Divorce: Therapeutic Approaches	105
Some Clinical Perspectives on the Divorced Family System	105
Research on the Outcome of Therapeutic Interventions in Divorce	112
Summary	116
7. Intervening in Divorce: Legal Policies	117
Legal Regulation of Divorce	118
Divorce Settlements	120
Settlement of Divorce Disputes	131
Unarticulated Normative Values	139
Summary of Suggestions for Legal Policies	141
References	144
Subject Index	158
About the Author	160