

Contents

Chapter One: ADOLESCENT PSYCHOLOGICAL DEVELOPMENT 3

Adolescent Development: Family Influences 3 • Adolescence as a Developmental Phenomenon 7 • Developmental Alterations in Adolescents and Their Families 9 • Varieties of Adult Responses to Adolescent Behavior 15 • Developmental Stages of Adolescence: Preadolescence 20 • Midadolescence 31 • The Ego in Adolescence 42 • Specific Ego Functions 51 • Adolescent Character Structure 59 • Achievement 65 • Failures and Achievement: Dropouts and the Disadvantaged 78 • Work 82 • Vocational Choices 92 • Athletics 96

Chapter Two: THE YOUTH PERIOD 115

Resolution of Past Conflicts 116 • Role of the Ego-ideal 119 • The Major Themes of Youth 121 • Sexuality and the Search for a Partner 124 • Toleration of an Uncertain Future 130 • Stabilization of Self-esteem 133 • Superego and Character Change 135 • Theoretical Issues About Youth 138

Chapter Three: ADOLESCENCE: THE BIOLOGICAL DIMENSION 143

Critical Periods, Sensitive Periods, and Developmental Lines 145 • Gross Aspects of Physical Development During

Adolescence 149 • The Menarche 155 • Endocrinal Aspects of Adolescence 158 • Variations in Rates of Physical Development 161 • Common Physical Concerns During Adolescence 164 • Abnormalities of Sexual Development 167 • Sex Differentiation Problems 176 • Body-image 179 • Obesity 185

Chapter Four: SEX-TYPING AND SEX-ROLE STANDARDS 193

Sex-Typing and Sex-role Identity 193 • Sex-role Identity 206 • Variations and Validity of Identification Theories 211 • Parental Models 214 • Fathers: The Significance of Absences 215 • Parental Integration and Sex-role Identity 223 • Father Roles in Psychopathology 225 • Methodological Problems 225

Chapter Five: THE PSYCHOPATHOLOGY OF ADOLESCENT SEXUALITY 233

The Development of Adolescent Sexuality 233 • Adolescent Sexual Conflicts 238 • Justifications Advanced for Legal Approaches to Sexual Behavior 241 • Legal Provisions Regarding Sexuality 246 • The American Heritage 247 • Problems Posed 250 • Special Problems of Disposition and Treatment 252 • Release 260 • Sexual Offenses Among Juveniles 261 • Pornography and Adolescence 321 • Prostitution 329 • Sexualized Behaviors 338 • Miscellaneous Expressions of Sexuality 344 • The Treatment Situation 349

Chapter Six: THE IDENTITY PROBLEM 359

Sociological Aspects 359 • Psychological Aspects 369 • Clinical-Developmental Aspects of Identity 375 • Identity Diffusion 385 • Female Identity 390 • Identity Problems of Black Youths 392 • Connections Between the Sociological, Psychological, and Clinical-Developmental Identities 398

Chapter Seven: SOCIALIZATION ASPECTS OF CONSCIENCE 405

Moral Development and Clinical Concern 405 • Piagetian Moral Development 406 • Subsequent Work on Moral Development 416 • Moral Development—Kohlberg 420 • Social Learning Contributions to Moral Development 425 •

Delayed Gratification 439 • The Role of Affects in Regulating Behavior 446 • Modeling Control of Aggression 449

Chapter Eight: SELF-CONTROL AS 455
A POWER GAME

Developmental Issues 456 • The Quest for Control 461 • Cultural Aspects 469 • Aspects of Developmental Psychology 472 • The Role of Affects 475

Chapter Nine: ANTISOCIAL BEHAVIOR: 483
SOCIOGENIC ASPECTS

Sociological Viewpoints 484 • Incidence and Prevalence Problems 488 • Sociological Explanations of Antisocial Behavior: Social Class Role and Ecology 491 • Group Delinquency 502 • Institutional Influences 513 • Family Configurational Patterns 523 • Problems of Sampling and Prediction 525 • "Personality" Factors and Delinquency 531

Chapter Ten: ANTISOCIAL BEHAVIOR: 541
PSYCHIATRIC ASPECTS

The Concept of Character 541 • Clinical Background of Psychopathological Delinquency 549 • Power-strivings and Delinquent Behavior 557 • Psychopathy 563 • Problems in the Classifications of Psychopathy 591 • Clinical Nosologies 598

Chapter Eleven: ANTISOCIAL BEHAVIOR: 609
NEUROTIC AND CHARACTEROLOGICAL ASPECTS

The Role of Neurotic Conflict 609 • Developmental Problems 614 • Differential Diagnostic Problems 619 • Specific Character Types 621 • Disillusionment as Part of Neurotic Conflict 636 • Depressive Core and Acting Out 641 • The Significance of Special Offenses: Property 644

Chapter Twelve: ANTISOCIAL BEHAVIOR: 687
PSYCHOTIC DEVELOPMENT

Historical Perspectives on Nosology 689 • Current Etiological Theories 691 • Prodromal Signs and Symptoms 696 •

Descriptive Aspects 701 • Pseudoschizophrenias and Psychotic Characters 707 • Extremes of Violence in the Psychotic Character 713 • Problems in the Prediction of Danger 725

Chapter Thirteen: THE JUVENILE AND THE SYSTEM OF JUSTICE 733

Historical Origins 735 • Procedural Processes 737 • Problems on the "Treatment" Level 744 • Juvenile Jurisprudence 750 • General Impressions 754 • Legal Issues 758 • Basis for Confinement 759 • The Right and the Adequacy of Treatment for Juveniles 769 • Conditions for a Therapeutic Alliance 773 • Variations on a Theme of Rehabilitation 776 • Continuation of Detention and Release 782 • The Treatment Position for Delinquents: Meaningfulness 786

Chapter Fourteen: TREATMENT OF THE ADOLESCENT: A RESUME 797

General Problems Related to Psychotherapy with Adolescents 798 • Special Problems in Treating Acting-out Adolescents 810 • Regressive Phenomena in the Context of Treating Adolescents 814 • Transference 818 • Countertransference 823 • Types of Therapeutic Approaches 832 • Learning Theory: Relevance to Treatment 848 • Ego-oriented Therapies 858 • Working-through Therapies 865 • Termination of Treatment 873

Index 881