

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements   vii

1. Introduction   1

A Little History   1

Some Features of Our Approach   7

The Organisation of Chapters   9

A Last Comment Before Proceeding   12

2. The Nature of Parents' Ideas: Descriptions By Content   15

Goals   16

Ideas About Starting Points   21

Steps Along the Road: The Course of Development   24

The Contributions of Internal and External Conditions   29

The Particular Influence and Responsibilities of Parents   33

Optimal and Reasonable Methods   36

Research Agenda: Ideas About Families and Relationships   39

3. The Nature of Parents' Ideas: Descriptions By Quality   47

The Accuracy of Parents' Ideas   49

Degree of Differentiation   53

The Extent of Shared Meaning   56

Degrees of Awareness and Accessibility   58

The Degree of Intensity or Attachment to an Idea   60

Connectedness or Structure   62

Research Agenda: Connectedness in the Form of Hierarchical Order   67

4. The Sources of Parents' Ideas	73
A Little History: Research on the Sources of Parents' Ideas	74
Approaches: Cognition, Cultural Models, Social Representations	80
Research Agenda: Ideas Over Time, The Place of Advice	93
5. Consequences: Emphasis on Parents	103
Affect	104
Parents' Actions and Interactions	113
Research Agenda: Affect, "Mutual Cognitions"	121
6. Consequences: Emphasis on Children	127
Reasons for Interest in Consequences for Children	128
Some Ways of Grouping Studies	130
Moves Towards Strengthening Research	133
Research Agenda: From Parent to Child?	150
7. Concluding Comments	155
Methodological Issues	155
General Perspectives	159
References	163
Author Index	181
Subject Index	187