

Contents

---

List of contributors	page	ix
Editorial preface		xi
Introduction. Perspectives on the transition to parenthood Wendy A. Goldberg		1
Part I. The transition to parenthood as a challenge for adaptation by individuals, couples, and families
1 Motivational factors in the decision and timing of pregnancy Gerald Y. Michaels		23
2 The power of parenthood: personality and attitudinal changes during the transition to parenthood Toni C. Antonucci and Karen Mikus		62
3 Psychological issues in adjustment to first parenthood Nicolina M. Fedele, Ellen R. Golding, Frances K. Grossman, and William S. Pollack		85
4 Changes in marriage during the transition to parenthood: must we blame the baby? Philip A. Cowan and Carolyn Pape Cowan		114
Part II. The transition to parenthood under conditions of risk
5 Medical perspectives on pregnancy and birth: biological risks and technological advances Linda Hughey Holt		157
6 Effects of infant risk status on the transition to parenthood M. Ann Easterbrooks		176
7 The transition to parenthood: special tasks and risk factors for adolescent parents Joy D. Osofsky, Howard J. Osofsky, and Martha Ourieff Diamond		209

Part III. Intervention strategies for individuals, couples, and families
8	Social networks and the transition to parenthood Benjamin H. Gottlieb and S. Mark Pancer	235
9	Intervention programs for the transition to parenthood: current status from a prevention perspective S. Wayne Duncan and Howard J. Markman	270
10	Family support programs for new parents Sharon L. Kagan and Victoria Seitz	311
	Conclusion. The transition to parenthood: synthesis and future directions Wendy A. Goldberg and Gerald Y. Michaels	342
	Index of names	361
	Index of subjects	372