

CONTENTS

LIST OF MAPS AND PLANS

NOTE ON DATES

I. INTRODUCTORY

Unity of the period	I
Scheme of the volume	1-3
Domination of Locke's ideas:	3-4
Civil government and preservation of property	4-6
Religious toleration	6-8
Influence of popular opinion	8
Restricted area of government action: laissez-faire	8-9
An age of strong personalities	10

II. ENGLISH SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT UNDER GEORGE I AND GEORGE II

The Hanover Electorate: composition and electors	11-13
Electoral rule in Hanover	13-14
Hanoverian relations with England	14
Limitations on royal power in England	15
Powers left to the Crown	16-17
(i) Choice of ministers	17-18
(ii) Control of army and foreign affairs	18-19
Friction between England and Hanover	19-20
Schemes for separating Crown and Electorate	20-21
Prestige of parliament	21-22
House of lords: composition and powers	22-24
high claims; protests	24-25
House of commons: composition	26-27
county members	26
borough members	27
elections, duke of Newcastle	28-29
independence	30
negative voice on Crown's ministries	30
Public interest in parliament	31
Reporting of debates surreptitious	31
High-handed proceedings of commons	32
Ministers appointed by king but dependent on parliament	32-33
Functions of ministers, absence of corporate responsibility	33-34
Slow evolution of prime minister's function	34-35
Growth of cabinet system	35-37
Informality of cabinets	37-38
King ceases to attend cabinet councils	38
Inner and outer cabinets	38-40
King's absences in Hanover; 'guardian of the realm', 'lords justices'	40-41
Inconvenience and unpopularity of king's absences	41-42
George I and II not popular but more so than pretenders	42-43

Bishop Butler	90
Bishop Berkeley	91-93
William Law	93-94
'Age of Benevolence'	94-95
The Wesleys and Whitefield: methodism	95-96
John Wesley	97-98
Egmont on Whitefield	98-99
Merits of methodism	99-101

V. SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC LIFE OF THE ENGLISH PEOPLE

Value of Defoe and Young on English conditions	102
The roads of England	102-103
Turnpikes	103-104
Difficulties of transport, rivers, and canals	104-105
Agriculture, 'Turnip Townshend'	105-106
Corn-prices	106
Inclosures: views of Goldsmith and Young	107-109
Woollen trade, importance, improvements	110-111
Silk and cotton	111-113
Iron industry, dearth of charcoal	113
Processes of iron industry	114
Use of coal for iron production; Darby of Coalbrookdale; puddling process	115-116
Steel industry, Huntsman	116
Slow development of iron and steel industry in this period	117
Coal industry	118-119
Newcastle coal	119-120
Pottery; Wedgwood	120-121
Foreign trade and shipping, London, Bristol, Liverpool	121-122
Smaller ports	122
Growth of imports and exports	123
Population estimates	123-124
Changes of centres of population	124
Wages and cost of provision; Young's statistics	124-127
Later statistics	127-128
Cleavage between rich and poor	128-129
Poor law system, methods of relief	130-131
Pauper children	131-132
London trades, wages, poverty, criminals, &c.	132-133
Gin drinking, amusements	133-135
State of prisons, Oglethorpe	135-136
Fleet marriages	136-137
Workhouses for the poor	137-138
Philanthropists, Foundling Hospital	139
Education, schools and universities for the well to do	139-140
Grammar and village schools	141
S.P.C.K. schools, England and Wales	141-142
Associations of workmen illegal; combination laws	143-144
Middle-class conditions in the provinces	144-145
The ruling class; easy condition	145-147
Occupations of polite society	147-148
Merits of aristocracy	148-149

VI. SETTLEMENT OF THE DYNASTY STANHOPE'S MINISTRY 1714-21

1714.	Atterbury's attempt to proclaim Pretender	150
	Ranking Jacobite grievance	151
	Unpleasing characteristics of George I and II	152
	Proceedings of lords justices and Hanoverian advisers	153
	Reception of George I on landing	153-154
	George I's first ministry, tories excluded	154-155
1715.	New parliament summoned	155
	Impeachment of leading tories	156
	Bolingbroke escapes to France and takes service with Pretender	156-157
	State of Pretender's court	157-158
	Bolingbroke makes the best of a bad job	159
	Pretender's exile in Lorraine a difficulty	160
	Stanhope's and Townshend's counter-activity; arrest of Wyndham	161
1716.	Mar's rising defeated; Pretender sent to Avignon	161-163
	Fate of Jacobite prisoners	163
	Septennial Act passed	164
	England's isolation in Europe	165
1715.	Stanhope's mission to The Hague and Vienna fruitful	165
1716.	Stanhope negotiates Triple Alliance with Dubois	166-167
1717.	Foreign difficulties; Townshend dismissed	167-168
	Walpole resigns: Stanhope-Sunderland ministry, Whig opposition party formed	168
	Stanhope's lead in foreign policy	169
	Stanhope carries Walpole's budget	169-170
1719.	Occasional Conformity and Schism acts repealed; attempt to relieve Roman catholics	170
	Peerage Bill defeated by Walpole	171-172
1720.	Walpole and Townshend rejoin ministry	172
	Stanhope's foreign policy: Triple and Quadruple alliances	172-173
1718.	Spanish war, Passaro, question of Gibraltar	173
1719.	Jacobite defeat at Glenshiel	173
	Difficulties with Sweden and Russia	174
	Death of Charles XII; Carteret negotiates pacification of north, but Russia dominates Baltic	175-176
1720.	South Sea Bubble: Walpole's opportunity	176-178
1721.	Death of Stanhope: his services to England	178-179

VII. THE SETTLEMENT OF THE DYNASTY WALPOLE'S MINISTRY 1721-42

	Walpole's upbringing and early career in parliament	180-181
	Walpole's elimination of rivals	181-182
1722.	Fear of Jacobite revival; suppression of Atterbury	182-184
	Watch on Jacobite activities	184-185
1724.	Carteret got rid of	185-186
	Walpole's financial policy; national debt, sinking fund, land-tax	186-187
	Reform of taxation; excise, customs, book of rates, smuggling	188-190

1733. Excise Bill defeated	191
Encouragement of trade and industry	191-192
Colonial fiscal policy	192-193
1725. Foreign policy, Townshend in charge, trouble with emperor on Ostend trade and Don Carlos's rights to Parma	193
Franco-Spanish breach: England sticks to France	194-195
Ripperda's activities at Vienna: treaty with emperor	195
Ostend Company formed: Anglo-Dutch protests	196-197
Hanover alliance counters Vienna alliance	197-198
1726. Forces mustered on either side: minor hostilities	199-200
Fleury's ministry begins; accommodation with emperor	200-201
1730-1. Walpole ousts Townshend and makes treaty with emperor 1731; relations with France less cordial	201-202
1727. Death of George I; Walpole retains power, helped by Queen Caroline	202-203
1727-33. Growing opposition to Walpole: Bolingbroke, Boy Patriots, Frederick P. of W.; the Craftsman	203-205
1733-8. War of Polish succession, emperor left in lurch, Treaty of Vienna 1738; England isolated	206-207
Disputes with Spain, South Sea Company, Asiento, guarda- costas , right of search, Jenkins	207-208
1739. Convention of Pardo: war declared in spite of Walpole Estimates of Walpole: a great house of commons man	209-210 211-212

VIII. THE ARMY AND THE NAVY 1714-60

The Army. Prejudice against standing army: its small numbers	213-214
Discipline, pay, barracks, and billets of men	214-215
Officers, absenteeism, unskilled, purchase of commissions	216
War departments	217
Reforms by George I and II and Cumberland	217-218
Drill and tactics	218-219
Artillery and engineers; good showing of men in war; enlistment, medical services	220-221
Foreign troops in English pay	221
The Navy. Numbers voted; morale of officers and men; strength of fleet	222-223
Navy departments: the board of Admiralty personnel	223-224
Press gang, pay, food, 'grog', quarters, scurvy	224
Officers' training, uniform, pay, prize-money	225-226
Reform in flag-list promotions	226
Anson's voyage; training of his officers; influence on spirit of navy	227-228
Fighting Instructions	229-230

IX. CARTERET AND THE PELHAMS

1739. Weak conduct of Spanish war at first: Walpole and Norris at cabinet councils	231-232
Strength of France: Family Compact with Spain	232-233
Disposition of fleet	233
Vernon captures Porto Bello: }	234-235
1741. failure at Carthagena, &c. }
Further disposition of main fleets	236

1740. Frederic II starts war of Pragmatic Sanction; France joins in; Maria Theresa helped by England;	} 236-238
1742. Bavarian Emperor Charles VII elected
Fall of Walpole: new ministry; Carteret's foreign policy; character; more active measures on continent	238-240
Subsidies and help to Maria Theresa: exit Frederic II by treaty of Berlin; Don Carlos of Naples kept quiet by Martin; prag- matic army raised	240-241
1743. Dettingen	242-243
Negotiations of Hanau	243-244
Treaty of Worms	244-246
Henry Pelham, first lord of treasury; attacks from Pitt on Carteret's Hanoverian policy	246-247
1744. Battle of Hyères, Lestock and Mathews; crumbling of Car- teret's system	247-249
Granville resigns; Pelham's administration reconstructed	249-250
1745. Fontenoy	251
The '45: Prince Charlie in Scotland and to Derby	251-255
1746. Falkirk and Culloden	255-256
Cumberland 'The Butcher'; Prince Charlie's wanderings	256-257
Triumph of the Pelhams; Pitt joins the ministry	257-259
Saxe conquers Austrian Netherland; Roucoux and Laffeldt; Dutch revolution	259-260
1745-6. Louisburg captured, Madras lost	260-261
1745. Charles VII dies, Maria Theresa's Francis I Emperor	261
1746-7. Allies' success on continent, Anson's and Hawke's naval victories	261-262
Peace negotiations	263-264
Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle	264-265
Bête comme la Paix ; War of Austrian Succession and Peace discussed	265-270

X. SCOTLAND AND IRELAND

Scotland. Anglo-Scottish misunderstandings	271
Electoral system, defects	271-272
Secretary of State for Scotland, Lord Advocate, dukes of Argyll manage Scottish business	272-273
Legal system; Duncan Forbes	273-274
Agriculture	275
Glasgow's trade	275-276
Fisheries, linen, and wool	276-277
Riots against malt-tax; Porteous riots	278-279
Highlands: clan system, cattle raids, Rob Roy	279-280
Wade's roads	281
Reforms after '45: forfeitures, clan system broken up, hereditary jurisdiction abolished for compensation	281-283
Lord Advocate Grant; Appin murder; Pitt's Highland regiments	283
Highland industries and education fostered	283-285
Scottish renaissance: the church	285-286
Literary and educational revival	286-287
Ireland. English oppression of Ireland in eighteenth century	287-288
Divided population, native Irish Roman catholics, Ulster presby- terians, Anglo-Irish ruling caste	288
Penal laws against Roman catholics	288-289

Numbers of Roman catholics compared with others	289
Proselytizing through Protestant schools; hedge schools	290
Irish exiles; Irish brigades and statesmen in foreign service	290-292
Ulster protestants; regium donum	292
English system of government	292
Lord Lieutenant; solatium for loss of office; long absences from Ireland; popularity of Chesterfield and Carteret	292-293
Lords Justices; system of appointment in English interest; Archbishops King, Boulter, Hoadly, and Stone	293-295
Irish parliament, regnal election, controlled by Poyning's law, and by English parliament	295
Economic system controlled by England; smuggling encouraged, woollen trade killed	296-297
Frequent famines	297-298
Land system	299
Irish pension-list used for English purposes	299-300
Army paid by Ireland, used by England	300
Wood's Halfpence imposed on Ireland	300-301
Drapier's Letters on Wood's Halfpence, Swift's triumph	301-302
Ireland quiescent during rebellions	303
The 'Undertakers'	303
Irish temperament resilient	303
Rebuilding of Dublin; art collections	303-304
Theatres, concerts, literary society	304-305
The Dublin Society; artistic products; newspapers and booksellers	305-306

XI. THE COLONIES AND INDIA

The Colonies. Extent of British Empire	307
North American and West Indian colonies	307-308
Disappearance of proprietary colonies on resumption by the Crown	308-309
Oglethorpe founds Georgia; its progress, &c.	309-310
Newfoundland, government	310
Nova Scotia, troubles with French	311
Government of colonies from London; Board of Trade	311
Government in America; governor, council, assembly	312
Assemblies' disputes with Crown and governor	312
W. Indian islands less assertive of independence	313
Slaves in West Indies	313-314
Royal African and South Sea Companies; the slave trade	313-314
Quarrels with Spain on Asiento and annual ship, &c.	314-315
Early signs of separatist tendency in America and counterbalancing influences	316
Disputes about trade regulation, Molasses Act	317
Help from England needed against French encroachments	317
Population of Canada and of American colonies	318
Canadian expansion southwards	318
Defence mainly left to colonists; but troops and money also sent from England	318-319
Disunion of colonies; attempts to unite; Pitt	319
Colonies' trade with enemies	320
American Indians and colonists	320-321
Prosperity of Philadelphia; Benjamin Franklin	321-322
Southern colonies and New England	322

Education in colonies; the press	322
Religion in colonies	323
'Canada or Guadeloupe?' after French War	324
India. E. India Company; prosperity, trade	324-325
Settlements of French and English companies	325-326
Their relative advantages	326
Break-up of Great Mogul's power; opportunity seized by French;	} 326-327
1746. Capture of Madras
1748. War continues after peace of Aix-la-Chapelle; schemes of Dupleix and Bussy	327
1749-52. Lawrence and Clive turn the tide	327-328
1754-6. Dupleix recalled; Bussy's success in Deccan; the northern Sarkars	328
1756. Black Hole of Calcutta	328-329
1757. Plassey; Clive annexes Bengal, Behar, and Orissa	329
1760. Clive returns to England: his successes and jagir	329
1758-61. French and English fleet actions; Lally Tollendal; vic- tories of Forde and Coote; Bussy taken prisoner	329-330
1761. Complete victory of English; end of French company	330-331
New problems for E. I. Co. after territorial acquisition	331
Social conditions of E. I. Co.'s servants	331-333

XII. NEWCASTLE IN SEARCH OF A POLICY

1748. Aix-la-Chapelle merely a truce: Pelham in power	334
Pelham's budgets	334-336
Pelham's debt operations	336-337
Pelham's enlightened domestic policy	337
Pitt's disinterested administration of Paymaster's office	337-338
1751. Death of Frederick Prince of Wales; his quarrels with George II; his allowance; his party; merits	338-340
His pretentious political ideas; The Patriot King	340
Regency Council	340
1753. Charges against Murray and Stone	340-341
Newcastle's quarrels with colleagues, Harrington, Chester- field, Bedford	341-342
1751. Holderness an accommodating colleague; Granville, tamed, rejoins ministry	343
Newcastle's conduct of foreign policy; King of the Romans and subsidies to electors' schemes a fiasco	343-345
1754. Death of Pelham; Newcastle first lord of treasury	345
Difficulty about secretary of state; Fox and Pitt too masterful; Robinson, a nonentity, appointed: a weak ministry	345-347
Disputes with France in India, W. Indies, America	347-348
Pitt and Fox attack ministers	348
Cabinet undecided till Braddock sent to America by Fox	348
1755. Robinson gives place to Fox	348
Braddock's force annihilated on Monongahela; French vexed at sea 'for a little muck'	349
Newcastle's feverish search for allies; Saxon, Hessian, Russian treaties	349-350
1756. Reversement des alliances ; Convention of Westminster between Frederic II and England; First Treaty of Versailles between France and Maria Theresa	351

Pitt urges militia instead of hired Germans	351-352
Loss of Minorca; Byng shot	352
Newcastle, deserted by Fox, goes cap in hand to Pitt	352-353

XIII. THE GREAT COMMONER

1756. Pitt's first ministry formed	354
1757. Dismissed; coalesces with Newcastle; George II surrenders	355-356
Pitt as minister: open methods; substitutes English militia and Highland regiments for German hirelings; conciliates Americans	356-357
Supports Frederic II with army under Cumberland	357-358
Relies chiefly on navy	358
World-wide and unceasing operations against France	358-359
1757. Defeats: Kolin, Klosterseven convention, coast raids, rebuffs in America	359-360
Then Rossbach victory and Pitt's new plans; Prince Ferdinand supersedes Cumberland with Army of Observation to support Frederic	360-361
1758. Victories: Louisburg, Forts Duquesne, Frontenac, and Oswego, Emden, Goree, and Senegal captured; raids on French coast	361-363
1759. Annus mirabilis : Guadeloupe, Minden (Lord George Sackville), Quebec (Wolfe), Lagos (Boscawen), Quiberon (Hawke): help sent to E. Indies	363-366
1760. Death of George II; his character and relations with Pitt	367
George III and Bute for peace	367-368
1760-1. Montreal falls to Amherst; Canada surrendered; Dominica and Belle Île won	368
1761. Bussy-Stanley negotiations between Pitt and Choiseul	368-370
Guadeloupe or Canada to be retained?	369
Negotiations cease on Choiseul's demands for Spain; Pitt's sentence for instant war with Spain rejected; Pitt's last cabinet; he resigns	369-370
1762. War with Spain declared; Martinique, 'neutral islands', Manila won; but St. John's, Newfoundland, lost	371
Help for Frederic II withheld; death of Tsaritsa saves him	371
Bute's negotiations with Choiseul through Sardinian ambassadors; terms of Preliminaries	371-372
Preliminaries accepted by Parliament	373
1763. Peace of Paris: terms, and results of war; bad effect of desertion of allies at Utrecht, in War of Austrian Succession, and in 1762-3	374-375
Significance of Pitt as war minister and mouthpiece of the people's voice	375-377

XIV. SCIENCE AND HISTORICAL RESEARCH

Newton's influence on contemporaries and successors	378
MATHEMATICIANS. MacLaurin and James Stirling	379
ASTRONOMERS. Flamsteed, Halley, Bradley	380-381
Change to Gregorian calendar; Macclesfield and Chesterfield	381
'Longitude at Sea', Nautical Almanac ; Whiston, Harrison, Bradley, Mayer	381

Smeaton and the Eddystone, &c.	381-382
Dollond's telescope, Hadley's and Campbell's quadrant and sextant	382
ELECTRICITY. Gilbert, Hauksbee, Gray, Dufay, the Leyden Jar, Watson, and Nollet	382-383
Benjamin Franklin	383-384
Stephen Hales, Vegetable Statics	384-385
CHEMISTRY. Joseph Black, W. Cullen, 'phlogiston', Black's 'fixed air', James Hutton (geologist)	385-387
Sulphuric acid: J. Ward, John Roebuck	387-388
BOTANY. S. Hales, the Sherards, Sir H. Sloane, Linnaeus, Peter Kalm, Dillenius, 'herborizing expeditions', Physic Garden	388-389
MEDICINE AND SURGERY. University instruction, the Monros at Edinburgh, Pope's doctor friends, the quacks, Cheselden, Jurin, William and John Hunter; Lady M. Wortley Montagu and inoculation; hospitals; John Pringle and James Lind (army and navy)	389-393
SCHOLARSHIP. Bentley, Middleton, Carteret	393-394
ANTIQUARIANISM. Society of Antiquaries, Wanley, Madox, Gibson, Wise, Wilkins, Hearne, Stukeley, Gale, Ducarel, &c.	394-395
MISCELLANEOUS. Ephraim Chambers, Granger, Anstis, Cole, Horace Walpole, Oldys	395-396
The Royal Society	396
The British Museum founded	397

XV. THE ARTS

State of arts in England at beginning of century; architecture and music alone vigorous	398-399
Inigo Jones and Wren; Kneller and his pupils, Richardson and Jervas	399-400
But by 1760 notable change: starting from Thornhill, great painters, sculptors, and architects of George I and II's reigns	401-402
Change due partly to wealthy leisured class, fashion of travel, and awakened interest in foreign works of art	402-403
Burlington, 'Athenian' Stuart, Allan Ramsay, Richard Wilson, Reynolds, &c., thus influenced; but Gainsborough never sought inspiration abroad	403-404
Few schools of art or accessible art collections in England; Kneller's St. Martin's Lane academy; Hollis, Meade, and Sloane show their collections	405
Royal, &c., patronage of art, influence of visiting foreign artists (Canaletto, &c.), of growing artists' quarter; Vertue's collections and Walpole's Anecdotes of Painting , Hogarth's Analysis of Beauty , Reynolds's Discourses , &c., stimulate interest	406-407
Exhibitions of artists' work at Society of Arts, Foundling Hospital, and finally Royal Academy	407-408
SCULPTORS: Roubiliac, Rysbrack, Scheemakers, &c.	408-409
PAINTERS: Gainsborough, Reynolds, R. Wilson, Sandby, Wootton, Devis, Zoffany, Samuel Scott, Stubbs, Romney, &c.	409-410
Hogarth	410
ARCHITECTS: Wren, Adam brothers, Woods father and son, Gibbs, Hawksmoor, &c. Rebuilding of London	411-412
FURNITURE, &c.: Chippendale, Kent, Adam	412-413

CONTENTS

xix

LANDSCAPE GARDENERS: Bridgman, Kent, 'Capability' Brown, &c.; general taste for gardening	413
ENGRAVERS, PRINTERS (Baskerville and Foulis), CHINA, AND POT- TERY, &c.	414
MUSIC: Handel, operas, oratorios, &c.	414-416
Decay of opera, Handel, Pepusch, Farinelli	416
Music clubs: Ranelagh, Vauxhall, Marylebone; Arne, Burney, Dibdin, W. Boyce	417
Church Music and Songs: Croft, Greene, Boyce, &c. Three Choirs Festival; popular taste	417-418

XVI. LITERATURE

Appreciation of Shakespeare and Milton	419
Literary standards; the coffee-houses; Dryden and Addison	419
Comfortable complacency; Pomfret, &c.	420
Literary men held in high esteem	420
Royalty and Walpole neglect: Cibber poet laureate	421
Opposition and prince of Wales encourage	421
Growing taste for literature: magazines, novels, circulating libraries	422
Poetry of Pope and his followers	423-424
Gay, Parnell, Dyer, Byrom, Carey, Savage, Vers de Société ; Allan Ramsay, Jean Elliot, Hamilton; Hymn-writers	425
At end of period signs of revolt against conventional models; Lloyd, Thomson, Collins, Smart, Gray	425-426
Swift, estimate	426-427
English prose; clear, simple standard set by Defoe, Addison, Swift, Steele	427
The novelists: Richardson, Fielding, Smollett, Sterne	427-428
Memoir writers: Egmont, Marchmont, Dodington, Hervey, Horace Walpole	428
Letter-writers: Horace Walpole, Chesterfield, Pope, Swift, Gray, Lady Mary Wortley Montagu	429
David Hume, estimate	429-430
Dr. Johnson; most of his works written by 1760, his style of writing, his poetry and prose writings; the Dictionary ; Lives of the Poets , essay on Savage	430-433
BIBLIOGRAPHY	434
LISTS OF HOLDERS OF VARIOUS OFFICES	469
INDEX	477

LIST OF MAPS

Between pages xxiv and 1

To illustrate

- | | |
|--|--------|
| 1. English and Welsh Dioceses, with table of ecclesiastical revenues, in eighteenth century. | CH. IV |
| 2. England showing (a) Population, 1700; (b) Population, 1750; (c) Centres of English Woollen Trade at beginning of eighteenth century. From P. Mantoux, Industrial Revolution in the Eighteenth Century , translated by M. Vernon (Jonathan Cape, Ltd.). | CH. V |
| 3. Eighteenth-Century London. From J. Roque, Plans and Maps of Great Britain and Ireland , slightly modified. | CH. V |
| 4. Roads and Navigable Rivers of England. | CH. V |

At end

- | | |
|---|-----------------------------|
| 5. Northern Germany, showing King's Electoral dominions and operations of pragmatic army. | CHS. II, IX, XIII |
| 6. Europe, 1714-63. | CHS. VI, VII, IX, XII, XIII |
| 7. Chart showing track of Centurion in Anson's Voyage. After R. Walter, Voyage Round the World by George Anson . | CH. VIII |
| 8. Scotland, showing Wade's roads and Prince Charlie's Wanderings. After J. B. Salmond, Wade in Scotland (The Moray Press) and A Map to Illustrate the Movements of Prince Charles Edward Stuart and his Armies from his Landing in July 1745 to his Departure in September 1746 , compiled by W. B. Blaikie (Scottish Historical Society and J. Bartholomew & Sons). | CHS. IX, X |
| 9. North America and West Indies. | CHS. XI-XIII |
| 10. India. | CHS. XI-XIII |