

CONTENTS

General Introduction Victor Lee	11
SECTION ONE: LANGUAGE ACQUISITION
Introduction Victor Lee	13
1. How Did We Learn to Do It? Dennis Fry	17
2. On Communicative Competence Dell Hymes	36
3. From Communication to Language – a Psychological Perspective Jerome Bruner	63
4. The Strengths of the Weak Form of the Cognition Hypothesis for Language Acquisition Richard Cromer	102
5. Language Acquisition and Cognitive Development Hermine Sinclair-de Zwart	131
6. The Acquisition of Language David McNeill	149
7. Telegraphic Speech Roger Brown	167
8. What's in a Word? On the Child's Acquisition of Semantics in His First Language Eve Clark	186
9. The Development of Conversation Between Mothers and Babies Catherine Snow	235
10. Learning and Using the Auxiliary Verb in English Gordon Wells	250
SECTION TWO: LANGUAGE VARIATION
Introduction Victor Lee	271
11. Code in Context Diana Adlam	275
12. Social Class, Language and Socialization Basil Bernstein	310
13. The Logic of Nonstandard English William Labov	329
14. The Neglected Situation in Child Language Research and Education Courtney Cazden	361

15. Variation in Child Language Gordon Wells	382
Glossary of Technical Terms	410
Index	422