

Contents

List of Contributors	x i
Preface	x iii

Part I

THE ONSET OF REPRESENTATION

1

Development of Sensorimotor Organization in Young Children: Grasping and Lifting Objects	3
---	---

PIERRE MOUNOUD and CLAUDE-ALAIN HAUERT

Introduction	3
Problem	8
Experimental Approach to the Child between 6 and 16 Months	11
Experimental Approach to the Child of 2 to 5 Years	18
Conclusion	31
References	33

2From Prerepresentational to Representational Cognition 37

JONAS LANGER

First-Order Proto-operations	40
Second-Order Proto-operations with Discrete Objects	44
Second-Order Proto-operations with Quasi-continuous Objects	53
Language and Thought: Initial Conclusions	58
References	62

3Transitions in Early Representational Intelligence:
Changes over Time in Children's Production of Simple Block Structures 65

SUSAN SUGARMAN

The Study	67
The Development of Class Grouping	71
The Development of One-to-One Correspondence between Classes	75
Common Trends in the Development of Class Grouping and between-Class Correspondences	83
Early Representational Intelligence Reconsidered	87
References	91

Part IIQUANTITATIVE ASPECTS OF ACTION*4*A Search for the Origins of Equivalence Concepts through a Microanalysis of Block Play 97

GEORGE E. FORMAN

Predicted Sequence and Rationale	101
Methods	104
Results and Discussion	109
Final Comment	132
Appendix: Notation System	133
References	134

5

A Longitudinal Analysis of Early Number Concepts: From Numbers to Number 137

SHELDON H. WAGNER and JOSEPH WALTERS

The Longitudinal Study	139
The Relationship of Counting to Conservation	152
Considerations for a Model of Early Number Development	156
Appendix: Preliminary Ordinal Scales of Some Aspects of Number Development	158
References	160

Part III

SPATIAL CONSTRUCTS IN EARLY CHILDHOOD

6

The Development of Hierarchic Organization: The Reproduction, Planning, and Perception of Multiarch Block Structures 165

BARBARA DILLON GOODSON

The Problem of the Arch	165
Construction and Cognitive Representation	168
Methodology	174
Findings and Discussion	179
Future Directions	197
References	200

7

Structural Development in a Symbolic Medium: The Representational Use of Block Constructions 203

STUART REIFEL and PATRICIA MARKS GREENFIELD

The Development and Structure of Symbols	203
Methodology	208

Results	213
Discussion of Findings	222
Conclusions	226
Appendix: Little Red-Cap	228
References	232

8

From Rhythm to Reversibility	235
------------------------------	-----

GILBERTE PIÉRAUT-LE BONNIEC

Materials and Techniques	238
Discussion and Conclusion	259
References	262

Part IV

ACTION IN A SOCIAL CONTEXT

9

Physical Knowledge and Social Interaction in Children from 18 to 24 Months of Age	267
--	-----

MINA VERBA, MIRA STAMBAK, and HERMINA SINCLAIR
With the Collaboration of SYLVIE RAYNA and LAURA BONICA

Introduction	267
Method	268
Materials and Design	270
Some General Results	271
Discussion	293
References	296

10

Understanding Others: A Longitudinal Case Study of the Concept of Independent Agency	297
---	-----

DENNIE WOLF

Introduction: Social Knowledge	297
The Concept of Agency	300

Contents	ix
A Concept of Independent Agency across Domains	321
The Consequences of Understanding Other People as Autonomous Agents	321
References	325
Epilogue	329
GEORGE E. FORMAN
Index	347