

Inhalt

ABSTRACT.....	9
---------------	---

Chapter One

Introduction: East Germany and its Neo-Humanist Marxists	11
Statement of Problem	11
Thesis.....	11
Historiographic Review and Methodology:
The GDR, its Public Sphere, and the Role of Intellectuals.....	15
Sources.....	50
Organization of Chapters	52
Conclusion	54

Chapter Two

“Bourgeois Marxists” in a Worker’s State: An Oxymoron?.....	57
Introduction.....	57
Dual Identities: Features and Contingencies	57
Jewishness and Bildung.....	64
Stalinist and Post-Stalinist Party Discipline	72
Pre-Modern State and the Public Sphere	73
The Legacy	80

Chapter Three

Bürgerlich Marxism Incarnate: Jürgen Kuczynski	81
Introduction.....	81
Background.....	83
The Making of a bildungsbürgerlich Communist	87
First Confrontations:
A Heterodox Believer in an Orthodox Party.....	107
JK as a Marxist Scholar:
Between Academic Autonomy and Polemics	117
Large Scale Scholarly Projects	123
Jahrbuch für Wirtschaftsgeschichte	151

The Ten Volume History of the Social Sciences and Humanities	154
Conclusion	169
Chapter Four
Jürgen Kuczynski: Between Scholarship and Aesthetics	171
Introduction.....	171
Kuczynski's vision of the Aesthetic:
Between Theoretical Reflection and Practical Application	172
Between Goethe and Lenin: Jürgen Kuczynski's
Politics of Culture	174
Dialogical Monologue?	206
Conclusion	215
Chapter Five
Stephan Hermlin: the GDR's spätbürgerlich Writer	217
Introduction.....	217
Background: Searching for the Bridge Between Geist
(Intellect) and Macht (Power).....	220
Hermlin's Literary Works: Fusing the Aesthetic,
the Ideological, and the (Auto) Biographic	223
The Outsider	239
Catalyst and Mediator.....	257
Conclusion	272
Chapter Six
Hermann Budzislawski and the Weltbühne Circle	275
Introduction.....	275
Hermann Budzislawski: Background and
Formative Experiences	277
Die Weltbühne	287
The Weltbühne Without Buzislawski.....	309
East Germany and the Weltbühne	312
The GDR's Weltbühne – New Authors.....	317
Wolfgang Harich's Background and Aesthetic Project	317

Wolfgang Harich and the Weltbühne	322
Karl Friedrich Kaul: Background	325
Kaul and the Weltbühne	331
Hermann Budzislawski Returns to the Weltbühne	332
Conclusion: The GDR " Weltbühne ": Between Neo-Humanist Marxism and Loyalty to the SED Regime	334
Chapter Seven
Conclusion	335
BIBLIOGRAPHY	347
Primary Sources	347
Interviews	347
Conference Proceedings	347
Correspondance	348
Primary Source Books, Articles, Archival Records.....	350
Secondary Sources	358