

CONTENTS

List of Tables	ix
List of Abbreviations	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
Introduction	1
I The Personnel of the British Diplomatic Service, 1815-1860	11
II Personnel and Patronage	30
III The Family Embassy	49
IV The Paris Embassy: Lord Granville at Work	72
V The Decline of the Family Embassy	83
VI Civil Service Reform, Parliamentary Enquiries, and the Diplomatic Service	97
VII Communications	116
VIII Personnel, 1860-1914	139
IX The New Diplomatic Service	152
X Senior Representation	172
XI Expansion and New Representation	198
Conclusion	215
Appendix A: Military and Commercial Attachés	220
Appendix B: Lord John Russell to Sir Henry Bulwer	222
Appendix C: Regulations for Her Majesty's Diplomatic Service	226
Bibliography	231
Index	242

LIST OF TABLES AND DIAGRAM

1.1	The British Diplomatic Service, 1815-1860, by Social Origin	13
1.2	Parental Occupation of 365 Diplomats, 1815-1860	13
1.3	Educational Background of Diplomats, 1815-1860	14
1.4	Social Background of Etonian Diplomats, 1815-1860 ...	15
1.5	The Nobility in Parliament and the Diplomatic Service .	17
1.6	Cabinet Members and Ambassadors, by Occupational Origin, 1830-1868	18
II.1	General Relationship between Diplomatic Service Appointments and Changes of Government	32
III.1	Personnel and Scales of Salary of 1815	56
III.2	Personnel and Scales of Salary in 1825	60
III.3	Scales of Salary in 1831	64
III.4	Personnel and Amended Scale of Salaries of 1831	65
VI.1	Diplomatic Service Representation, 1853	99
VI.2	Diplomatic Service Salary Scales, 1853	100
VIII.1	The British Diplomatic Service, 1860-1914, by Social Origin	139
VIII.2	Parental Occupation of 210 Diplomats, 1860-1914	140
VIII.3	Members of Parliament and Diplomats, by Occupation .	141
VIII.4	Educational Background of Diplomats, 1860-1914	142
VIII.5	Educational Background of Liberal and Conservative Members of Parliament of 1906 and Diplomats	142
VIII.6	Aristocrats as Cabinet Ministers (1886-1916) and as Ambassadors (1860-1914)	144
VIII.7	Under-Secretaries (1868-1945) and Diplomats (1851-1929), by Social Origin	145
VIII.8	Prussian (1871-1914) and British (1860-1914) Diplomats by Social Origin	146