
■ Contents

Foreword: Sport Communication Linked with Linguistics Linda K. Fuller	ix
Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction: Sports, Games, Rhetoric, Performance, and Politics Barry Brummett	1

■ Part One: General Dimensions of the Rhetoric of Performance In Sport and Games

Introduction	7
1 Why Sport and Games Matter: Performative Rhetorics in Popular Culture Rachel Kraft and Barry Brummett	9
2 The Rhetoric of Monstrosity in Professional Sports Controversy Roger Gatchet	26
3 It Is a Girl Thing: Uncovering the Stylistic Performance of Female Athleticism Sunshine P. Webster	48

■ Part Two: Performance Within Texts of Sports and Games

Introduction	65
4 Towards a Rhetoric of Nostalgia and Cultural Memory: Silver League Base Ball and the Performance of the Past Carlita P. Greene	67

5	Bull Riding and the Performance of Masculinity Luke Winslow	86
6	Performing Perfection, or, How to Be a Ninja Warrior Jaime Wright	103
7	Rollergirls : Superhero Rhetoric in Post-Feminist Television Alexis Carreiro	123
8	Going All In on the Global Market: The Rhetorical Performance of Neoliberal Capitalism on ESPN's World Series of Poker Jay P. Childers	139
9	Lucha Libre : Mexican Wrestlers and the Portrayal of Politics in the Arena Laura Barberena	157

■ Part Three: How Elements of Sports and Games
Are Taken up into Performance in the Wider Culture

	Introduction	173
10	Competitive Eating as Sport: A Simple Recipe for Everyone K. Jeanine Congalton	175
11	Hip-Hop, the NBA, and Street Basketball: The Rhetorical Dimensions of Performance at the Intersection of Class, Race, and Popular Culture Kevin A. Johnson	196
12	Sacred Saturdays: College Football and Local Identity Timothy R. Steffensmeier	218
13	Performing Social Class: The Case of Rutgers Basketball versus Don Imus Meredith M. Bagley	235
	About the Contributors	259
	Index	263