

Contents

Contributors	page v
Preface	vii

Part 1 PRESENT CONCERNS

INTRODUCTION

Making sense of the status quo	3
Steve Duck and Robin Gilmour

1. CAUSES FOR OPTIMISM

A social psychology of human concerns	5
Philip Brickman

2. CAUSES FOR PESSIMISM

Making social psychology scientific	27
Rom Harré

3. THEORETICAL STATUS

The development of theory in social psychology	53
William J. McGuire

4. APPLICATIONS

The development of applied social psychology	81
Michael Argyle

Part 2 PAST HISTORY

INTRODUCTION

Social psychology: a history or merely a past?	109
Robin Gilmour and Steve Duck

5. SUNK WITH HARDLY A TRACE

On reading Darwin and discovering social psychology	111
Robert M. Farr

6. FASHIONS IN SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

John M. Innes	137
---------------	-----

7. PROMISES UNFULFILLED

The premature abandonment of promising research	163
Carl W. Backman

8. PROCESS LOSS IN SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY
Failure to exploit?	181
Wolfgang Stroebe
Part 3 FUTURE EXTENSIONS
INTRODUCTION
Promises fulfilled: futures for social psychology	209
Robin Gilmour
9. TAKING THE PAST TO HEART
One of the futures of social psychology	211
Steve Duck
10. DEVELOPMENTS IN THEORY
Toward intellectual audacity in social psychology	239
Kenneth J. Gergen
11. DEVELOPMENTS IN APPLICATION
Prolegomena to a more applied social psychology
J. Richard Eiser
12. SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY 2001
The social psychological bases and implications of structural unemployment	293
Peter Kelvin
ENDPIECE
Valedictory for a young social psychology	317
Robin Gilmour
References	319
Author Index	347
Subject Index	353