

Table of Content

I Introduction and Prefaces

Jürgen van Buer, Cornelia Wagner & Maika Gausch	9
Prof. Dr. Najib A. Wahed – Vice-Minister of Higher Education	13
Prof. Dr. Wael Mualla – President of Damascus University	15
Dr. Rami Ayoubi – Tempus Coordinator in Syria	17

II The TEMPUS Project “QUMIA”

II.1 Tempus Project “Quality University Management and Institutional Autonomy” – Ambitions and Guiding Principles Jürgen van Buer	19
II.2 “Quality University Management and Institutional Autonomy” – Objectives, Approaches and Outcomes – A Project Description Thomas Teuscher & Thomas Rieke	27
II.3 “The Syrian Education System – Structures, Challenges and Perspectives” Nora-Elise Beck & Cornelia Wagner	35

III Institutional Autonomy and Strategic University Development

Theoretical Background

III.1 Trends Leading to Increasing Accountability for Institutions of Higher Education and their Consequences John H. Schuh	49
---	----

III.2	Educational Borrowing: Higher Education between Politically Motivated Change and Cultural Stability. Aspects of Quality Assurance in the Bologna Process. Dina Kuhlee	59
	Accreditation as System Monitoring in Syria
III.3	Requirements of Quality Assurance Helmut Konrad & Elisabeth Fioroli	71
III.4	The Meaning of Accreditation in Higher Education Maika Gausch	77
	University Quality Development – Experiences from “QUMIA”
III.5	University Quality Development and Assurance Mohamad Kayyal	89
III.6	Mission Statements as Instruments for University Development Cornelia Wagner	97
III.7	Conceptualization of a Mission Statement for Damascus University Mohamad Kayyal	119
III.8	Methodological Considerations about the Performance of Evaluation Projects in Syrian Higher Education Rafah Al Munkkel, Maher Ellawy, Raghad Shwiekh & Cornelia Wagner	125
III.9	Funding of the European Union – Ways to acquire Grants in Syria Thomas Rieke	151
IV	Study Programme Development
IV.1	Programme Construction and the Bologna Process Ulrich Teichler	161

IV.2	Characteristics of a European Regulatory Framework According to Bologna Process Hermann Heiler	171
IV.3	Integrating International Quality Standards into Higher Education in Syria – An Analysis of Basic Conditions Nora-Elise Beck	185
IV.4	Developing Study Programmes Based on Study Outcomes Kęstutis Pukelis & Rimantas Laužackas	199
IV.5	Development of a Bsc – Curriculum at Weihenstephan University of Applied Sciences Roland Bauer	207
IV.6	Quality Development and Assurance at the Faculty of Agriculture of Damascus University – Mission Statement, Self-Evaluation, Outcome-Based Study Programmes Thomas Teuscher, Ghassan El-Khayat, Samouil Moussa, Shehadeh Kaskous & Ghiat Sumainah	217
IV.7	Introduction of Problem-Based Learning – The Case of Damascus University, Bachelor of Agriculture Sebastian Peisl & Cornelia Wagner	231
V	Summary and Perspectives
V.1	Innovation, Sustainability and Dissemination – Perspectives on Necessities Jürgen van Buer	241
V.2	Private Universities in Syria Abdul Ghani Maa Bared	245
	References, Readings and Resources	251
	Register of Authors	267