

Table of Contents

Introduction	1
Chapter One: Another Reasoning Being.....	21
Versions of a Sister or The Monster's Antecedents	23
The Figure of a Man.....	26
Doubling Geneva or Is Frankenstein's Monster a Kantian?	31
Bride of Frankenstein	46
Homme or Citoyen	50
Chapter Two: Generating Universals	55
A Special Principle is Necessary for Critique	57
Correlating General and Particular.....	60
Introducing Critique of Judgment	62
Aesthetic Judgment and the Generative Aspect of its Autonomy	67
Time and the Imagination	70
Ein Naturzweck (A Natural Purpose).....	73
A Critical Passage into History	81
Final End of Nature (Letzter Zweck der Natur)	85
The Challenge of a General History	89
The Encyclopedic and the Propaedeutic.....	100
Chapter Three: Kleist's Penthesilea , Ein Trauerspiel	111
The Penthesilea Effect.....	113
Weimar Classicism and the Double: The Speaking Body on Stage	117
Iphigenie auf Tauris	122
Über Epische und Dramatische Dichtung	126
Kleist's Epic Poetics of the Stage	129
Hundekomödie : Dog Theater	134

Origin Stories and the Giving of Ground.....	146
Alien Nation	150
Exposed, in the Vibration of the Word.....	162
Epilogue	165
Works Cited.....	169
Index	179