

Contents

PREFACE AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS, v

INTRODUCTION, vii

I. PRINCIPLES AND METHODS OF RESEARCH IN PSYCHOTHERAPY

1. Problems and Design in Psychotherapy Research 3
 - Definition of Psychotherapy, 3
 - Research and Social Responsibility, 6
 - Art or Science? 7
 - Reproducibility and Generalizability, 9
 - Research and Privacy, 10
 - The Nature of the Research Question, 12
 - Hypotheses, 16
 - Psychotherapy Research Designs, 17
 - The Need for Controls, 20
 - Control for Changes Not Due to Treatment, 21
 - Control of Extraneous Variables, 24
 - Research Strategies for Controlling Variables, 26
 - Control of Biases, 28

2. Change and Its Measurement 33
 - The Nature of Change, 33
 - Criteria for Appraising Change, 37
 - Criterion Measures, 40
 - Applying Criterion Measures, 46
 - What Criterion Measures Have Been Used? 60

II. RESEARCH ON THE EFFECTS OF PSYCHOTHERAPY

3. The Effects of Psychotherapy 63
 - Improvement in Untreated Subjects, 66
 - Eysenck's Appraisal Appraised, 71

4. Review of Controlled-Outcome Studies:
 - I. Adequate Studies with Positive Results 75
 - Adequate Studies: Major Benefits, 77
 - Adequate Studies: Minor Benefits, 105

5. Review of Controlled-Outcome Studies:
 - II. Questionable Studies with Positive Results 118
 - Questionable Studies: Major Benefits, 118
 - Questionable Studies: Minor Benefits, 126

6. Review of Controlled-Outcome Studies:
 - III. Null and Negative Results 146
 - Adequate Studies: Null or Negative Results, 146
 - Questionable Studies: Null or Negative Results, 153

7. Evaluation of Therapeutic Programs and Overview of Outcome Research 165
 - Evaluation of Therapeutic Programs, 165
 - Overview of Outcome Research, 172

8. Therapeutic Method as an Outcome Variable 178
 - Individual vs. Group Psychotherapy, 178
 - Variants of Group Psychotherapy, 184
 - "Schools" of Therapy, 186
 - Therapist Style and Technique and Outcome, 201

9. The Patient as an Outcome Variable: I. Diagnosis, Severity of Maladjustment, and the Search for Predictors 204
 - Diagnosis, 204
 - Severity of Maladjustment, 215
 - The Search for Outcome Predictors, 218

| | |
|--|-----|
| 10. The Patient as an Outcome Variable: II. Background, Organismic, Demographic, Motivational, and Attitudinal Factors | 230 |
| Age, 230 | |
| IQ, 233 | |
| Education, 235 | |
| Sex, 236 | |
| Marital Status, 237 | |
| Social Class, 238 | |
| Motivation, 250 | |
| Environmental Factors, Conditions, and Settings, 251 | |
| Therapy Readiness, 255 | |
| Expectancy, 257 | |
| 11. The Therapist as an Outcome Variable: I. Qualifications | 265 |
| Professional Discipline, 265 | |
| Personal Therapy of the Therapist, 266 | |
| Experience of the Therapist, 268 | |
| Training of the Therapist, 273 | |
| Therapy without Therapists—Psychoheresy? 288 | |
| 12. The Therapist as an Outcome Variable: II. Personal Characteristics and Attitudes | 294 |
| Effect of Sex of the Therapist, 294 | |
| Therapist's Interests and Outcome, 299 | |
| Therapist's Personality and Outcome, 306 | |
| The Effect of Therapist-Patient Personality Similarity, 311 | |
| Liking for Patient as a Determinant of Outcome, 327 | |
| Therapist-Offered Conditions, 330 | |
| Therapeutic Relationship, 335 | |
| 13. Temporal Variables and Outcome | 337 |
| Time-Restricted Therapies, 337 | |
| Temporal Variables, 340 | |
| Terminators and Remainers, 358 | |

III. RESEARCH ON THE PROCESS OF PSYCHOTHERAPY

14. The Therapist as a Variable in the Therapeutic Process 377
- Professional Discipline, Attitudes, and Performance, 377
 - Effect of "School" or Orientation of Therapist on Practices and Attitudes, 380
 - Personal Analysis of the Therapist and Performance, 383
 - Therapist Performance and Attitudes as a Function of Experience, 384
 - Therapist-Offered Conditions, 394
15. Verbal Processes and Techniques 403
- Research Problems and Methods, 403
 - Verbal Conditioning, 409
 - Reinforcement of Dependency Responses, 414
 - Degree of Lead, 415
 - Other Technique and Style Effects, 416
 - Interpretation, 419
 - Silence and Resistance, 428
 - Physiological Measures during Psychotherapy, 432
16. Patient-Therapist Interactions and Relationships 439
- Patient-Therapist Interaction, 439
 - The Therapeutic Relationship, 453
 - Transference and Countertransference, 461
 - Identification and Role Modeling, 464
17. An Overview of Process Research 473
- REFERENCES, 485
- NAME INDEX, 531
- SUBJECT INDEX, 545