

Table of Contents

INTRODUCTION

MARIA EISENMANN, NANCY GRIMM, LAURENZ VOLKMANN vii

1. NEW ENGLISH CULTURES 1

SABINE DOFF, Bremen:

Beyond Beavers and Bilingualism: Reasons and Suggestions for Teaching Modern Canada in the EFL Classroom 3

NANCY GRIMM, Jena:

Australia & New Zealand: Beyond the “Tourist Kit” Approach in the
EFL Classroom 19

GISELA FEURLE, Bielefeld:

Teaching South African Literatures: A Diversity of Writings and Experiences 43

OLIVER LINDNER, Bayreuth:

India: The Jewel in the Classroom 59

MICHAEL MITCHELL, Warwick:

‘Nobody or a Nation’: Intercultural Adventures in the Caribbean 73

RÜDIGER AHRENS, Würzburg:

The Enigmatic Asian Face: Is there a Future for English in South-East
Asia? 91

2. NEW ENGLISH LITERATURES 107

ALBERT RAU, Brühl:

Margaret Atwood’s The Handmaid’s Tale: A Dystopian Novel in the
EFL Classroom 109

MARIA EISENMANN, Erlangen-Nürnberg:

Jane Harrison’s Stolen: Physical, Psychological and Sexual Abuse of Aboriginal Children in Australia 125

ALBERT-RAINER GLAAP , Düsseldorf:
Plays from Aotearoa in the English Language Classroom	139
NANCY GRIMM , Jena:
Teaching Niki Caro’s Whale Rider : A Student-Centered and Media Studies-Based Approach	151
LAURENZ VOLKMANN , Jena:
J. M. Coetzee’s Disgrace (1999): A Disturbing Literary Representation of the New South Africa	165
MECHTHILD HESSE , Freiburg:
“Disciplining Boys with Marriage Arrangements” – Bali Rai’s (Un)arranged Marriage in the EFL Classroom	183
GÖRAN NIERAGDEN , Köln:
“Carving out me identity”: Caribbean Poetry as a Travel Guide to Postcolonial Awareness and Intercultural Competence	197
PETER FREESE , Paderborn:
Tony Hillerman’s Listening Woman : A Navajo Detective as an Intercultural Mediator	217
LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS	237