I Social Decision Schemes

Introduction
by David A. Vollrath and James H. Davis	23
2. Social Interaction as a Combinatorial Process in Group Decision	27
by James H. Davis
Individual versus groups	27
Interaction as the pooling of resources	29
Individual-into group as "pooling" of resources	30
Social combination processes	31
Problem solving: the combination-of-contributions model	32
Social decision schemes and group decision making ✓	36
Social decision scheme theory ✗	38
Decision under high task uncertainty	41
Decisions under moderate task uncertainty	43
Decisions under low task uncertainty	44
Decision making in mock juries	48
Social decisions: opinions and social issues	51
Discussion	52
Notes	55
References	56

3. Social Transition Schemes: Model, Method and Applications	59
by Norbert L. Kerr
The social transition scheme model	60
Origins: the social decision scheme (SDS) model	60
An outline of the social transition scheme (STS) model	62
The social transition scheme methodology	64
Applications of the social transition scheme model	71
Conclusions	76
Notes	76
References	78
4. Social Decision Schemes on Intellective Tasks	81
by Patrick R. Laughlin and John Adamopoulos
The general social decision scheme model	81
Intellective and judgemental group tasks	83
Method	88
Results	88
Discussion	90

Choice Shifts

Introduction

by Blair H. Sheppard and James H. Davis	97
---	----

5. Persuasion as Argument Processing 103

by Eugene Burnstein	103
Depolarization	106
The informational basis of persuasion	114
Informational influence and conformity	117
Conclusions	121
Notes	121
References	122

6. Polarizing Effects of Social Interaction 125

by David G. Myers
Generality of group polarization \times	128
Theoretical explanation \times	138
Note	157
References	157

7. The Stability of Extreme and Moderate Responses in Different Situations 163

by Maryla Zaleska
Social judgement theory and group discussion: study description	165
Does extremism necessarily mean involvement?	172
Social judgement theory and group discussion: summary and discussion	173
Social judgement theory and attitude change following observation: study description	175

CONTENTS	xiii
Social judgement theory and observation: results	176
Integration of discussion and observation studies	179
Extremism as identification with an extreme group	181
Notes	183
References	183
8. Stability of Faction Position and Influence	185
by Charlan Nemeth
References	199
9. Group Decision under Uncertainty: Group Structure and the Shift Phenomenon	201
by Zoltán Kovács
Experiment	204
Results and discussion	209
Summary	212
References	213
10. Choice-shift as Cognitive Change?	215
by Erich H. Witte and Dieter H. Lutz
Method	217
Results	218
Discussion	227
Conclusions	230
References	231
Appendix: Statements of the questionnaire	232

Social-Emotional Aspects of Group Decision Making

Introduction	237
by Hermann Brandstätter
11. Attitude Change as a Function of the Observation of Vicarious Reinforcement and Friendliness/Hostility in a Debate	241
by Gisela Stocker-Kreichgauer and Lutz von Rosenstiel
Theoretical frameworks	242
Experimental designs	247
A reanalysis and new evaluation of the experiments	248
Results	249
Discussion	249
References	253
12. Liking and Influence in Group Decision Making: a Test in Four Different Experimental Settings	257
by Heinz Schuler
Experiment I	262
Experiment II	264
Experiment III	267

Experiment IV	270
Summary	274
References	276
13. The Influence of Social Emotions on Bargaining Outcomes in a Bilateral Monopoly Game by Hermann Brandstätter and Austin C. Hoggatt
Method	284
Results	287
Discussion	291
References	293
14. Partner Perception and Matrix Variation in a Mixed-motive Game	295
by B. Rüttinger
Method	298
Results	299
Discussion	304
Summary	306

IV
Bargaining
Introduction	311
by Hermann Brandstätter
15. Conflict Behaviour of Individuals, Dyads and Triads in Mixed-motive Games	315
by J. M. Rabbie, L. Visser and J. van Oostrum
Introduction	315
Experiment 1: comparison of individuals and dyads in a PDG	320
Results	321
Discussion	323
Experiment 2: group size and defensiveness of males and females in a PDG	324
Method	325
Results	325
Experiment 3: group size and avoidance of internal conflict	327
Method	328
Results	329
Experiment 4: group size and inter-group cooperation in an allocation task	331
Method	333
Results	334
Conclusion	336
References	340
16. The Effect of Experience on Information Exchange and Cheating in an Asymmetrical Bargaining Situation	345
by Helmut W. Crott, Roland W. Scholz and Beate Michels
The role of experience in bargaining	345

Unilateral v. bilateral experience	346
Power conditions and their effect on motivational ratings	347
The interpretation of bargaining behaviour by equity and dissonance theory	349
The experiment: situation characteristics and theoretical expectations	352
References	363
17. A Simulation Study of Third Parties in Industrial Decision-making	365
by Geoffrey M. Stephenson and Janette Webb
Introduction	365
Method	367
Procedure	369
Results	375
Conclusions	384
Acknowledgements	385
References	385
18. Preparation for Negotiation: Conflict, Commitment and Choice	387
by Ian E. Morley
The Paris Peace Conference of 1919	389
Experimental research: a brief review	401
Conclusions	409

V

Social Influences on Individual Judgement

Introduction	423
by Gisela Stocker-Kreichgauer	423
19. Social Interactions in Cognitive Development	429
by Gabriel Mugny and Willem Doise
Hypothesis and general design of the experiments	430
Experiments	437
Conclusions	450
References	451
20. Arousal and Conformity	453
by J. Hatcher
Experiment	455
Replication	463
Discussion of the two experiments combined	468
References	470

VI

Groupthink

Introduction	473
by Gisela Stocker-Kreichgauer

21. Counteracting the Adverse Effects of Concurrence-seeking in Policy-planning Groups: Theory and Research Perspectives	477
by Irving L. Janis
Background ✕	478
Prescriptive hypotheses to be tested	486
What type of research can be done?	488
Perspectives for controlled experiments on groups making real decisions	495
References	499
22. Heuristic Models of Groupthink	503
by Ivan D. Steiner
The horse-trading model	504
The risky-shift model ✕	510
A normative model	514
Conclusions	520
