
Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	ix
Part I
1 Why bother – why study small groups?	3
2 What are we talking about? Definitions and differences	19
3 Ways of observing and analysing what goes on in groups	33
Part II
4 How do groups change and develop?	53
5 How are members influenced by the group?	71
6 Who wants to be leader?	88
7 Who does what? Structure and communication	112
8 And the answer is . . . group problem-solving and decision-making?	131
9 When groups collide – enter the intergroup	156
Part III
10 Getting groups to work – teams in organisations	177
11 Groups can help us learn – teamwork and students	189
12 Groups can help – groupwork and some final thoughts	202
Index	219