

Contents

Preface to the Second Edition	vii
1. Introduction	1
Processes	1
Processes of Choice	2
Principal Influences on the Development and Use of the Processes	2
Using Groups to Conduct Applied Social Research	6
Advantages of Group Wisdom Versus Individual Leadership	7
Summary	9
2. Nominal Group Technique	10
Meeting Preparations	11
Opening Statement	12
Conducting the NGT	13
Using NGT in a Large Group	18
An Example	19
Limitations	21
Resources	23
Appendix 2.1: Presenting NGT Results	24
NGT-at-a-Glance	24
NGT From the Perspective of the Reader as Facilitator	25
3. Ideawriting	32
Meeting Preparations	33
Opening Statement	34
Conducting the Ideawriting Process	34
An Example	36
Another Example	38
Limitations	41

Resources	41
Ideawriting At-a-Glance	42
Ideawriting From the Perspective of the Reader as Facilitator	43
4. Interpretive Structural Modeling	46
ISM Preparations	47
Opening Statement	51
Conducting the ISM Session With a Computer	52
An Example Using the Computer	53
Conducting the ISM Session Without a Computer	55
Example	56
Reviewing an ISM Product	61
Limitations	62
Resources	62
Addendum 4.1: Coping With a Large Number of Elements in an ISM	63
Addendum 4.2: Reviewing an ISM Product	75
Addendum 4.3: Criteria for Making Choices	83
Addendum 4.4: The Role of a Process Observer	85
ISM-at-a-Glance	88
ISM From the Perspective of the Reader as Facilitator	89
5. When to Use the Processes	97
6. Beyond Process	100
Summary	105
References	107
About the Author	109