

Table of contents

Acknowledgements v

Part one

Introduction

The making of poetic convention: Elizabeth Bishop's poetics and cognitive poetics 3

Chapter one

Six dimensions of imaginative apprehension 18

1. Categorization 26
2. Image schemas 32
3. Conceptual metaphors and image metaphors 35
4. Conceptual integration 40
5. Metonymies 46
6. Narrative structure 50

Chapter two

Three of Elizabeth Bishop's licensing stories 57

1. Looking 58
2. Exploration 64
3. Seascape 69

Part two

Introduction

The splendid particularity of an individual poem: Cognitive poetics and genetic criticism 79

Case studies

Eight cognitive readings in Elizabeth Bishop

1. Books of travel under a powerful reading-glass ("Over 2,000 Illustrations and a Complete Concordance"; metonymy) 93
2. Conceptual correspondences between the bight and the desk ("The Bight"; conceptual integration) 115
3. Elizabeth Bishop's idea of "knowledge" ("At the Fishhouses"; VERTICALITY image schema) 136
4. Pointing out Santos ("Arrival at Santos"; POINTING-OUT idealized cognitive model) 159

5. Mapping travel and its images (“Questions of Travel”; image metaphor)	179
6. Understanding as sandpiper’s seeing (“Sandpiper”; SEEING conceptual schema)	199
7. The simple path of a life’s journey and its story (“The Moose”; inheritance hierarchy based on the PATH image schema)	218
8. Patterning the walk of the mind (“The End of March”; cultural model of the walk poem)	243
 Epilogue
Portrait of a mind reading	265
 Appendices
1. Elizabeth Bishop: Chronology	273
2. The MIND-AS-BODY system	275
3. The THINKER IS A MOVER AND MANIPULATOR metaphor	278
 Primary sources
1. Elizabeth Bishop manuscripts	279
2. Elizabeth Bishop publications	280
3. Elizabeth Bishop interviews	281
 Works consulted
1. Elizabeth Bishop criticism	283
2. Cognitive linguistics	291
3. Cognitive poetics	302
4. Genetic criticism	306
5. Miscellaneous	307
6. Dictionaries	311
 Index	 313