

Contents

| | |
|---|-------------|
| Preface | ix |
| Acknowledgments | xiii |
| 1. The Nature of Narratives | 1 |
| Speculations About Humpty Dumpty | 2 |
| What Is a Narrative? | 4 |
| The Differences Between Narratives and Nonnarratives | 6 |
| Narration and Narratives | 7 |
| Why Narratives Are Important | 9 |
| Reading Narratives | 12 |
| The Role of the Reader | 12 |
| The Place of Narratives in the Media | 14 |
| Topics to Be Covered in This Book | 16 |
| 2. Theorists of Narrativity | 19 |
| Aristotle on Narratives | 19 |
| Vladimir Propp on the Problems of Studying Folktales | 23 |
| Morphology of the Folktale | 24 |
| A Modification of Propp's Theory | 30 |
| Paradigmatic Analysis of Narrative Texts | 30 |

| | |
|---|-----------|
| Mieke Bal's Distinctions Among Story, Text, and Fabula | 32 |
| Seymour Chatman's Story and Discourse | 35 |
| A Note on Genres | 36 |
| 3. Narrative Techniques and Authorial Devices | 41 |
| A Gloss on Propp's Functions | 42 |
| Devices Authors Use to Convey Information | 44 |
| Descriptions | 45 |
| Thoughts | 46 |
| Dialogue | 48 |
| Summaries | 50 |
| Characterization | 52 |
| Stereotypes | 54 |
| Overheard Conversations | 56 |
| Letters | 57 |
| Articles From Publications | 58 |
| Phone Calls | 58 |
| Confessions | 59 |
| Conclusion | 60 |
| 4. A Glossary of Terms Relating to Narrative Texts | 63 |
| A Final Note | 69 |
| 5. Dreams: A Freudian Perspective | 71 |
| Freud's Theory of Dreams as Wish Fulfillment | 72 |
| Freud on Decoding Dreams | 73 |
| Elements in Dreams | 75 |
| Symbols in Dreams | 76 |
| A Freudian Analysis of a Dream: A Case Study | 77 |
| Dreams and Fairy Tales | 78 |
| 6. Fairy Tales | 83 |
| Defining the Fairy Tale | 83 |
| Fairy Tales, Myths, and Fables | 87 |
| The Way Fairy Tales Function: | |
| A Psychoanalytic Perspective | 89 |
| A Synopsis of A Thousand and One Nights | 92 |
| A Psychoanalytic Interpretation of | |
| A Thousand and One Nights | 93 |
| An Analogy With Psychotherapy | 94 |
| The Fairy Tale as Ur-tale | 95 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| 7. The Comics | 99 |
| Defining the Comic Strip | 99 |
| The Narrative Structure of Comics | 100 |
| The Pictorial Content of Comics | 102 |
| Dialogue in the Comics | 103 |
| The Complex Matter of "Reading" the Comics: | |
| The Katzenjammer Kids | 103 |
| On the Status of Comics in the Scheme of Things | 107 |
| 8. The Macintosh "1984" Television Commercial: | |
| A Study in Television Narrativity | 111 |
| The Image on Television | 111 |
| A Brief Primer on Television (Video) Aesthetics | 112 |
| The Macintosh "1984" Commercial | 115 |
| Symbology and Mythic Aspects of the Commercial | 119 |
| Neutralizing the Power of Television Narratives | 120 |
| 9. The Popular Culture Novel | 123 |
| Defining the Novel | 123 |
| Popular Culture Novels | 126 |
| Genres and Formulas | 127 |
| Narrative Techniques in I, The Jury | 129 |
| A Concluding Note on Fantasy and Reality | 132 |
| 10. Radio Narratives: | |
| A Case Study of the War of the Worlds Script | 135 |
| Terms Used in Radio Production | 137 |
| The War of the Worlds Panic | 137 |
| The Openings of the War of the Worlds | |
| Script and Book | 139 |
| The Interruptions | 141 |
| The Structure of the Text | 143 |
| A Personal Note | 145 |
| 11. Film Narratives | 147 |
| Distinctive Aspects of Film as a Medium | 147 |
| Montage | 149 |
| John G. Cawelti on the Western Formula | 151 |
| Will Wright's Structural Study of the Western | 153 |
| High Noon : A Synopsis | 155 |
| Analyzing High Noon | 156 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| 12. Narratives and Everyday Life | 161 |
| Differences Between Narratives and Everyday Life | 161 |
| Jokes as Narratives | 163 |
| Journals and Diaries | 167 |
| Conversations | 168 |
| Psychotherapy | 169 |
| Repeat Performances | 170 |
| Obituaries | 172 |
| A Note on Narratives and Everyday Life | 173 |
| Appendix: | |
| Simulations, Activities, Games, and Exercises | 175 |
| References | 186 |
| Name Index | 189 |
| Subject Index | 193 |
| About the Author | 199 |