

Contents

Preface . . . . .	v
List of contributors . . . . .	ix
Michael Cysouw &amp; Jan Wohlgemuth
The other end of universals: theory and typology of rara . . .	1
Harald Hammarström
Rarities in numeral systems . . . . .	11
Thomas Hanke
Additional rarities in the typology of numerals . . . . .	61
Alice C. Harris
Explaining typologically unusual structures: the role of probability . . . . .	91
Pavel Iosad
Right at the left edge: initial consonant mutations in the languages of the world . . . . .	105
Andrej Malchukov
“Quirky” case: rare phenomena in case-marking and their implications for a theory of typological distributions . . . . .	139
Matti Miestamo
Negatives without negators . . . . .	169
Frederick J. Newmeyer
Accounting for rare typological features in formal syntax: three strategies and some general remarks . . . . .	195
Jan Rijkhoff
Rara and grammatical theory . . . . .	223
Søren Wichmann &amp; Eric W. Holman
Pairwise comparisons of typological profiles . . . . .	241

Jan Wohlgemuth

Language endangerment, community size and typological rarity . . . . .	255
Index . . . . .	279
Subject index . . . . .	279
Language index . . . . .	283