
Contents

	Preface	xi
Chapter 1	Introduction	1
	The Breadth of the Topic: Artificial and Natural	1
	The Utility of a Theory of Artifacts	4
	The (Non-)history of Theories of Artifacts	7
	The Definition of "Artifact": First Attempt	11
	Philosophical Presuppositions	18
Chapter 2	Instruments, Tools, and Artifacts	23
	Instruments: Things Intentionally Used	23
	Tools: Intentionally Modified Instruments	27
	Artifacts Proper: Objects Intended to Be Recognized as Tools	29
	Artificial Things of All Sorts	33
Chapter 3	Agents, Intentions, and Action	38
	Main Questions in Action Theory for the Theory of Artifacts	40
	The "Historical" Nature of Action-Theoretic Concepts	41
	Structural and Historical Criteria for Action	43
	Contemplating States, Activities, and Agents	46
	Fully Intentional Actions, Half-Intentional Ones: Habits	49
	Other Unconscious Influences on Actions	51
	Plans: Low-, Middle-, and High-Level Intentions	54
Chapter 4	Recognizing Actions and Artifacts
	The Conceptualization and Attribution of Action-Theoretic Notions	57
	The Underdetermination and Lack of Justification for Many Attributions of Agency	57

Contents

	The Conceptualization and Attribution of Action: A Single Case	61
	Attributing Plans and Purposes to Agents	65
	Recognizing Intentional Features in Events	69
	Recognizing Intentional Properties in Instruments and Tools	72
Chapter 5	Recognizing and Interpreting Artifacts	77
	Underdetermination for Artifacts	77
	“Indicative” Actions and Artifactual Properties	83
	Goals and Methodologies in the Interpretation of Artifacts	87
	The Rationality of Historical Inquiry for Finding Best the Present Function	91
	Hesitations About the Efficacy of Historical Inquiry Another, Political, Reason for the Disutility of Historical Inquiry	95
	General Rules of Cognition and Their Rationality	97
		99
Chapter 6	Communicative, Expressive, Artistic, and Other Artifacts	102
	Communicative and Expressive Artifacts	102
	Classifying Artifacts: General Issues	105
	“Ordinary” Useful Artifacts	107
	Art Works	108
	Conceiving of Objects as Art Works	112
	Being an Art Work	114
	An Alternative Definition of Art Work	116
Chapter 7	Toward a Metaphysics of Artifacts Individuation, Identity Through Time, and Group Agency	119
	Deterioration and Restoration of Artifacts	121
	Indirect Creation and Group Agency	126
	The Individuation of Artifacts and Physical Objects	129
	Peculiar Properties: Historical and “External” Properties of Things	131
	“External” Properties and Relations	134
Chapter 8	Evaluating Artifacts	136
	Five Dimensions of Artifactual Value	138
	The Details of Functional Failure: Deficiencies in the Means-Ends Hierarchy	146

Contents

	Types of Failure in a Deliberative History	148
	High-, Middle-, and Low-Level
	Intentions Behind Artifacts	150
	A Mundane Example: A "Good" Chair	153
	Evaluation of Agent and Interpreter	156
Chapter 9	Art Works as Artifacts
	Special Considerations	158
	Artifactual and Action-Theoretic
	Reflections on Art Works	159
	The Sensuous Versus the Abstract in Art	160
	Are Art Works Platonic Complexes of Intentions?	164
	The Identity and Individuation of Art Works	166
	Purposes of Art Works: Their Essential Obscurity	171
	Specifying the Purposes of Art:
	As Much as We Can Say	173
Chapter 10	The Purposes of Art Works	176
	Emotional Expression and Communication
	as Artistic Purposes	176
	The Complex and Subtle Content
	of Artistic Articulation	179
	Obscurity, Success, and Artistic Evaluation	186
	Purposes of Art Other Than Expression	188
	Art Works as Historical and Cultural Objects	190
Chapter 11	Performance Art Works	197
	Performances as Artifacts	197
	Artistic Performances	199
	Three Puzzles About Artistic Performance	202
	Performance as an Action-Theoretic Concept	204
	The Normative Aspects of Performance	211
	Applying the Philosophical Theory to Performances	216
	A Final Example of the Authenticity Problem:
	J. S. Bach	221
	Expanding the Issue of Authenticity	223
Chapter 12	Natural and Artificial
	The Fateful and Obscure Contrast	224
	Theories of Nature	224
	The Crudity of the Contemporary Conception of
	Nature: An Ecological-Philosophical Paradox	228
	The Complementarity of Nature
	and the Artificial World	231

Contents

Saving the Experience of the "Natural"	232
Purposes of Agents, Purposes in Artifacts, Purposes in Nature	236
The Uses of Nature: Interpretation-Free Zone and Nature as Artifact	242
A Second Purpose of Nature: Otherworldly Agents	247
Bibliography	249
Index	263