

Contents

Acknowledgments.....	ix
Introduction: Learning about Space—and about Ourselves Hein Viljoen, Minnie Lewis and Chris N. van der Merwe	1

Part I: Stories and Identities

1. Listening to the Voices: Narrative and Identity in the Work of Karel Schoeman Willie Burger	25
2. To Belong or Not to Belong Heilna du Plooy	39
3. External Events and Internal Reality: Fugard's Construction of (Afrikaner) Identity in the Plays of the Nineties Annette L. Combrink	55
4. The Latin American Connection: History, Memory and Stories in Novels by Isabel Allende and André Brink Marita Wenzel	71
5. Myth and Identity Marianne Dircksen	89

Part II: Places and Landscapes

6. Land, Space, Identity: The Literary Construction of Space in Three Afrikaans Farm Novels Hein Viljoen	107
7. When Outsiders Meet: Boemeef and A. H. M. Scholtz Chris N. van der Merwe	125
8. Civilization and Wilderness: Colonial Spatial Binaries and the Construction of Contemporary South African Identity in André Brink's An Instant in the Wind and Kirby van der Merwe's Klapperhaar slaap nooit stil nie (One Can Never Sleep Quietly on a Coir Mattress) Louise Viljoen	137

Part III: Cultural Identity

9. The Construction of "Colored" Space and Identity in Dido's 'n Stringetjie blou krale (A String of Blue Beads) Minnie Lewis	157
10. The Underestimated Strength of Cultural Identity: The Search for Cultural Specificity between Localizing and Globalizing Tendencies Rien T. Segers	175
Notes on Contributors.....	199