

Contents

List of Figures vii

List of Tables vii

Preface viii

Foreword xi

1. Introduction 1

2. ^{integriertes}Contemporary Views of the Manager's Job 7

The Classical School 8

The Great Man School 11

The Entrepreneurship School 12

The Decision Theory School 13

The Leader Effectiveness School 17

The Leader Power School 18

The Leader Behavior School 19

The Work Activity School 21

Four Aspects of Managerial Work 26

3. ^{erhalten}Some Distinguishing Characteristics of Managerial Work 28

Much Work at ^{unmittelbar}Unrelenting Pace 29 ^{vollst.}

Activity Characterized by Brevity, Variety, and Fragmentation 31 ^{erfolgreich}

Preference for Live Action 35

Attraction to the Verbal Media 38

Between his Organization and a Network of Contacts 44

Blend of Rights and Duties 48

^{klar}Propositions about Managerial Work Characteristics 51

4. ^{Rolle}The Manager's Working Roles 54

The Set of Ten Roles 55

The Interpersonal Roles 58

The Informational Roles 65

The Decisional Roles 77

The Manager's Basic Purposes 94

Propositions about Managerial Roles 96

5. ^{Veränderung}Variations in Managers' Work 100

A Contingency Theory of Managerial Work 101

The Job in the Environment 103

rezept
Studien

The Job Itself—Level and Function	109
The Person in the Job	118
The Job Over Time	122
Eight Managerial Job Types	126
Propositions about Variations in Managers' Work	129
6. Science and the Manager's Job	132
Programming the Manager's Work	133
Studies of the Manager's Programs	136
The Role of the Management Scientist at the Policy Level	142
Reprogramming Scheduling Activity	146
Reprogramming the Information System	148
Reprogramming the Strategy-Making System	152
Propositions about a Science of Managing	161
7. The Future of Managerial Work	165
A Comprehensive Description of Managerial Work	166
The Manager in a "Loop"	173
Implications for the Manager	174
Implications for Teachers of Managers	186
Implications for the Management Scientist	195
Implications for the Researcher	197
Appendix A: Major Studies of the Manager's Job	199
Appendix B: Seven Research Methods Used to Study Managerial Work	221
Appendix C: A Study of the Work of Five Chief Executives	230
Bibliography	279
Index	291