

Translator's Note	vii
Preface: Yours Globally	viii
1 Two Centuries of Globalization: The Changing Scale of State and Capitalism	1
The limits of globalization	3
Globalization: a concept and an event	6
The foundational nineteenth century	14
Globalization: two or three things that we know about it	24
2 The State: A Product of Globalization	30
Dead man's reprieve	33
The privatization of states: hybridization and straddling	41
The transnational production of national memories	48
Frontiers, smuggling and state-formation	52
A very national 'international civil society'	58
Transnational crime in the service of the state	67
The transnational ferment: the latest proofs	72
Globalization: the motor of state-formation	76
3 The Social Foundations of Globalization	83
Transnational historical fields	83
The global web of social relations	102
Globalization as networking?	115
4 Globalization and Political Subjectivation: The Imperial Moment (1830–1960)	126
A question of method	126
Colonization as experience of subjectivation	130
Extraversion and coercion in imperial subjectivation	147

5	Globalization and Political Subjectivation: The Neo-Liberal Period (1980–2004)	163
	Global social institutions and political subjectivation	164
	The diffuse social practices of global subjectivation	171
	'Human types' of globalization: main roles and American stars	177
	'Human types' of globalization from below: the importance of bit players	185
	Globalization, nation-state and individuation	197
6	The Global Techniques of the Body	209
	Merchandise and subjectivation	210
	The globalization and appropriation of merchandise	216
	Merchandise and the reinvention of difference	224
	Merchandise and political subjectivation	230
	Globalization in movement	234
	The globalization of gestures	242
	The senses of globalization	251
	The world in movement	254
	The global political techniques of the body	262
	Conclusion: When Waiting is an Urgent Matter	269
	Global Godot	269
	Globalization as a liminal condition	277
	Plenum and void in global governmentality	287
	Notes	291
	Index	358