

Contents

Foreword	VII
Chapter 1 Introduction – Elements of English	1
001 On grammar	1
002 The character of English	3
002/1 Who speaks English?	3
002/2 Where English comes from	3
002/3 Language varieties	5
002/4 Regional variants of English and standard languages	8
003 Some basic concepts in language study	14
003/1 Some general fields of language	14
003/2 Basic grammatical categories	17
003/3 Sentence functions	19
003/4 Sentence types and sentence patterns	24
Chapter 2 Nouns	27
2.1 Basic features: introduction	27
004 Main grammatical features	27
004/1 Nouns and noun phrases	27
004/2 Syntactic roles of noun phrases	28
004/3 Morphological invariance	29
004/4 Number: singular and plural	29
004/5 Countability	30
004/6 The genitive	31
005 Main semantic features	32
005/1 Common and proper nouns	32
005/2 Common nouns: concrete or abstract	33
005/3 Common nouns: individual, mass, collective, and pair nouns	33
2.2 From singular to plural	34
006 Regular plural formation	34
006/1 Regular changes in spelling and pronunciation	34
006/2 Special cases	34
007 Irregular plural formation	35
007/1 Vowel change	35
007/2 Plurals in -en/-ence	36
007/3 Singular-plurals	36

007/4	Plural-singulars	37
007/5	Greek and Latin plurals.	37
007/6	Modern loan-word plurals	38
008	Number, countability and meaning: details of use	39
008/1	Individual nouns	39
008/2	Mass nouns	39
008/3	Collective nouns	41
008/4	Pair nouns	43
008/5	Quantifying non-count nouns	43
008/6	Mass, collective and pair nouns with different German equivalents	45
008/7	Summary: common nouns with different meanings in singular and plural	45
2.3	The genitive	46
009	The s-genitive: form and syntax	46
009/1	Spelling	46
009/2	Pronunciation	47
009/3	Syntax	47
010	The of-genitive: form and syntax	49
010/1	As a postmodifying prepositional phrase	49
010/2	As part of a premodifying expression of quantity	49
010/3	The “double genitive”	49
011	The genitive in general use	50
011/1	Animate nouns: s-genitive	50
011/2	Inanimate nouns: of-genitive	51
012	Some specific uses of the genitive	52
012/1	Quantifying expressions	52
012/2	Constitutive meaning	53
012/3	The pronoun s-genitive with localities	55
012/4	Genitives with verb-related nouns	57
012/5	Beyond the genitive: the collocational nature of “prepositional of” with verb-related nouns	58
012/6	The compound noun in genitive meaning	58
013	Summary: s-genitive and of-genitive in contrast	58
013/1	The s-genitive in general use; exceptions	58
013/2	The of-genitive in general use; exceptions	59
2.4	Noun forms	59
014	Common suffixes	60
014/1	Describing a state, condition or characteristic	60
014/2	Describing an action or state, or the result of one	60
014/3	Describing a person/thing carrying out an action, or affected by one	60

014/4	Describing fields of study, belief, professional activity or behaviour.	61
014/5	Suffixes with mixed reference	61
015	Prefixes	62
015/1	Opposites.	62
015/2	Describing place, order, size and rank.	62
015/3	Describing self and others.	62
015/4	Referring to number and quantity	62
015/5	Meaning “badly/wrongly”.	62
016	Compound nouns	63
016/1	Two separate nouns	63
016/2	The “hyphen” question.	63
016/3	Two nouns as one	64
016/4	Singular in the first element	64
016/5	Other types of compound noun	64
016/6	Pronunciation: stress.	66
016/7	Plural forms.	68
017	Compound nouns: summary and points of difficulty	68
017/1	Type and spelling.	68
017/2	Pronunciation: stress.	69
018	Some other processes of noun formation	69
018/1	Old forms into new.	70
018/2	Old words, new meanings.	71
018/3	New words, new meanings.	71
Chapter 3	Pronouns, Determiners and Quantifiers	73
3.1	Pronouns	73
019	Main grammatical features	73
020	Pronoun types	74
020/1	Personal pronouns	74
020/2	Possessives.	77
020/3	Reflexive pronouns: self and others	79
020/4	Reflexive pronouns: further points of usage	79
020/5	Pronoun table (summary).	81
020/6	Reflexives, possessives and personal pronouns: summary of important points and common difficulties.	81
020/7	Other pronoun types.	82
3.2	Determiners	84
021	Main grammatical and semantic features	84
022	Determiner types	84
022/1	The indefinite article.	84

XII Contents

022/2	The definite article	87
022/3	The zero article	88
022/4	The definite article with names	95
022/5	The definite article in other 'borderline' uses	98
022/6	Demonstrative determiners	101
3.3	Quantifiers	108
023	Main grammatical and semantic features	108
024	Distributives	109
024/1	all	109
024/2	both	114
024/3	every	116
024/4	each	117
024/5	either	119
024/6	Negative distributives: not + either/neither/nor	121
024/7	Other negative distributives	125
025	Indefinite quantifiers	131
025/1	some	132
025/2	any	133
025/3	much/many/a lot of	138
025/4	little/few/a little/a few/several	139
025/5	more/most, less/least, fewer/fewest	140
Chapter 4	Adjectives	141
026	Basic features	141
027	The syntax of adjectives	142
027/1	Position and function	142
027/2	The adjective phrase	142
028	Adjective meaning and adjective grammar	143
028/1	Common semantic categories	143
028/2	Some special sub-types	144
028/3	Adjective position: attributive only	145
028/4	Adjective position: predicative only	146
028/5	Clause reduction	147
028/6	Attributive postmodification	148
028/7	Attributive premodification	149
028/8	Gradable and non-gradable adjectives	151
028/9	Proper adjectives	151
029	Adjective forms	151
029/1	Affixes	152
029/2	Other words in adjective functions	154

029/3	Compound adjectives	157
030	Aspects of usage	159
030/1	Adjectives as nouns	159
030/2	Some special cases	163
030/3	Adjectival complements	164
031	Comparison	166
031/1	Types of comparison	166
031/2	Forming the comparative and superlative	167
031/3	Use of comparative and superlative	170
031/4	Equative comparison	171
031/5	Deficit and surplus comparatives compared	171
031/6	Comparative constructions and their syntax	173
031/7	Superlatives	179
031/8	Non-adjective comparison	180
031/9	Summary of different comparative types and structures	186
Chapter 5	Adverbs	188
032	Basic features	188
033	Adverb meaning	189
033/1	Semantic types	190
033/2	The adverb phrase and its functions	193
033/3	Adverb position: general	196
033/4	Adverb position according to meaning	197
033/5	Position of other adverbials	205
033/6	Usage: some special cases	209
034	Adverb forms	214
034/1	Derived adverbs	214
034/2	Non-derived adverbs and other special groups	215
034/3	Comparison of adverbs	218
Chapter 6	Prepositions	221
035	Basic features	221
036	Individual prepositions and their meanings	222
036/1	Prepositions of place and direction	222
036/2	Prepositions of time	237
036/3	Prepositions of mixed reference	243
Chapter 7	Conjunctions	246
037	Basic features	246
038	Individual conjunctions and their meanings	247
038/1	Conjunctions expressing cause (reason)	247

XIV Contents

038/2	Conjunctions expressing time relations	248
038/3	Conjunctions expressing conditions	251
038/4	Conjunctions expressing addition	254
038/5	Contrast and contradiction with subordinating conjunctions	258
038/6	Mixed conjunctions	259
039	Conjunction clauses and sentence syntax	264
039/1	Clauses as adverbials	265
039/2	Clauses as subjects, objects and complements	266
039/3	Adverbs as subordinators instead of conjunctions	267
039/4	Further subordination	268
039/5	Clause reduction to indicate function	269
039/6	Clauses as parts of phrases	269
039/7	Comma rules	272
Chapter 8	Verbs: Basic Features, Syntax and Forms	273
040	Basic features	273
040/1	The verb phrase	273
040/2	Verb morphology	274
041	Syntax: the verb in the sentence	285
041/1	The verb and its complementation	285
041/2	The verb and basic sentence operations	287
041/3	Verbal action types (modes of occurrence)	298
042	Forms of verbs	300
042/1	Verb formation	300
042/2	Particle verbs	301
042/3	Formation of non-finite verbs	307
042/4	Forming progressive and perfect	309
042/5	Forming the passive	309
Chapter 9	Verbs: The Present and Past Tenses	311
043	Overview	311
044	The primary non-perfect tenses and their aspects	312
044/1	The general meaning of the aspects	312
044/2	The present tense and its aspects	318
044/3	The past tense: introduction	327
044/4	The past tense: forms	327
044/5	The past tense: main interplay of aspects	334
044/6	The past tense: further points on aspect usage	336
Chapter 10	Verbs: The Perfect Tenses	340
045	Introduction	340

046	The present perfect	341
046/1	Time orientation and general meaning	341
046/2	Time orientation, adverbials, and tense	342
046/3	Time-span perfects: the continuative	343
046/4	Time-span perfects: the experiential	348
046/5	Non-time-span perfects: the resultative	352
046/6	The present perfect: concluding points and summary	360
047	The past perfect	364
047/1	Time orientation and general meaning	364
047/2	The past perfect as present-perfect-in-the-past	364
047/3	The past perfect as past-tense-in-the-past (= pre-past use)	366
047/4	Some further points of note	368
Chapter 11	Verbs: Future and Conditional Meaning, Indirect Speech, the Passive	371
11.1	Future meaning	371
048	Introduction	371
049	The forms of future reference	372
049/1	The modal future: will	372
049/2	The modal future: to be going to	377
049/3	The modal future: shall	379
049/4	The non-modal future: arrangements	380
049/5	Past and perfect meanings with future reference	382
049/6	The basics of future meaning – overview	385
11.2	Conditional meaning	386
050	Introduction	386
051	Conditional meaning and conditional forms	387
051/1	Concrete points on form	387
051/2	Conditional sentences with speculative meaning	388
051/3	Conditional sentences with non-speculative modal meaning	395
051/4	False conditionals	398
051/5	Speculative conditions: other types and variants	401
11.3	Indirect (reported) speech	405
052	Introduction: direct and indirect speech	405
053	The forms of indirect speech	406
053/1	Tense regulation in indirect speech	407
053/2	Other changes in indirect speech	410
053/3	Reporting verbs in indirect speech	413
053/4	Questions in indirect speech	416
053/5	Commands in indirect speech	420

11.4	The passive voice	422
054	Introduction: active and passive voice	422
055	Forming and using the passive	423
055/1	Basic features of active-passive conversion.	423
055/2	Transitive verb types and their relation to the passive	425
055/3	Further points on the passive	426
Chapter 12 Verbs: Modal Verbs.		430
056	Modal verbs: types and forms	430
056/1	Primary modals	430
056/2	Secondary modals	432
057	Modal meanings	433
057/1	Ability/capability	433
057/2	Speculation	437
057/3	Permission	442
057/4	Directives	445
057/5	Other modal usage	456
Chapter 13 Verbs: Non-finite Verbs		459
058	Basic features	459
13.1	The infinitive	459
059	Forms	459
060	Infinitive constructions	460
060/1	The infinitive after verbs	461
060/2	The infinitive after verbs: some special cases	462
060/3	The infinitive after adjectives	463
060/4	Infinitive clauses as shortened relative clauses	467
060/5	Infinitive clauses as appositive postmodifications	472
060/6	Infinitives of purpose	472
060/7	Infinitives in indirect questions and indirect commands	473
060/8	Consecutive infinitives	475
060/9	The perfect, progressive and passive forms of the infinitive	479
060/10	Syntax: sentence functions in and around the infinitive	481
13.2	The gerund	487
061	Form, syntax, general meaning	487
061/1	The subject of a gerund	488
061/2	The gerund clause as subject	489
061/3	Tense, aspect and passive with the gerund	489
062	Gerund constructions	491

062/1	The gerund after verbs	492
062/2	Catenatives: gerund or infinitive according to meaning.	494
062/3	Catenatives: gerund or infinitive according to grammar	497
062/4	Catenatives: gerund or infinitive with little or no difference	498
062/5	The gerund after prepositions.	499
062/6	The gerund in noun compounds.	501
062/7	The action nominal.	501
13.3	The participles	503
063	Form, syntax, general meaning	503
063/1	Uses and functions of participles: an introduction	504
063/2	The syntax of the participle clause	505
063/3	Tense, aspect and passive with participles.	506
064	The participles in use	507
064/1	The present participle at sentence level	507
064/2	The present participle at phrase level	515
064/3	The present participle: some borderline cases.	519
064/4	The perfect participle.	522
064/5	The past participle: introduction.	524
064/6	The past participle at sentence level	524
064/7	The past participle at phrase level.	529
Chapter 14	Phrase and Clause at Complex Level	532
14.1	The complex phrase	532
065	Introduction	532
066	Postmodification in the noun phrase	532
066/1	The relative clause.	534
066/2	The relative clause: other phenomena	540
066/3	Other types of relative postmodification.	542
066/4	Appositive postmodification	548
066/5	Genitive postmodification.	551
066/6	Multiple postmodification.	553
067	Complex adjective and prepositional phrases	557
067/1	The complex adjective phrase.	557
067/2	The complex prepositional phrase	561
14.2	Aspects of the complex sentence	562
068	Forms and functions	562
068/1	Clauses as subject (S)	562
068/2	Clauses as direct object (Od)	563
068/3	Clauses as subject complement (Cs)	565
068/4	Clauses as object complement (Co)	565

XVIII Contents

068/5 Clauses as adverbials (A) 567
068/6 Examples of sentence analysis 572
068/7 Analysing special clause and sentence types. 574

Exercises to SAGE  utb-mehr-wissen.de