

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Notes on Contributors	x
Foreword by Rachel Bowlby	xiv
Acknowledgments	xxii
Introduction: Reclaiming Realism Matthew Beaumont	1
1 Literary Realism Reconsidered: "The world in its length and breadth" George Levine	13
2 Realist Synthesis in the Nineteenth-Century Novel: "That unity which lies in the selection of our keenest consciousness" Simon Dentith	33
3 Space, Mobility, and the Novel: "The spirit of place is a great reality" Josephine McDonagh	50
4 Fictions of the Real: "All truth with malice in it" Terry Eagleton	68
5 Naturalism: "Dirt and horror pure and simple" Sally Ledger	86

6	Realism before and after Photography: "The fantastical form of a relation among things" Nancy Armstrong	102
7	The Realist Aesthetic in Painting: "Serious and committed, ironic and brutal, sincere and full of poetry" Andrew Hemingway	121
8	Interrupted Dialogues of Realism and Modernism: "The fact of new forms of life, already born and active" Esther Leslie	143
9	Socialist Realism: "To depict reality in its revolutionary development" Brandon Taylor	160
10	Realism, Modernism, and Photography: "At last, at last the mask has been torn away" John Roberts	176
11	Cinematic Realism: "A recreation of the world in its own image" Laura Marcus	195
12	The Current of Critical Irrealism: "A moonlit enchanted night" Michael Löwy	211
13	Psychoanalysis and the Lacanian Real: "Strange shapes of the unwarped primal world" Slavoj Žižek	225
14	Feminist Theory and the Return of the Real: "What we really want most out of realism . . ." Helen Small	242
15	Realism and Anti-Realism in Contemporary Philosophy: "What's truth got to do with it?" Christopher Norris	259
	Afterword: A note on literary realism Fredric Jameson	279
	Index	290