

Contents

List of abbreviations	xi
-----------------------	----

CHAPTER 1

Introduction	1
--------------	---

1. Introduction 1
 - 1.1 Sociolinguistics: Micro and macro divisions 2
 - 1.2 Domains 3
 - 1.3 Critical discourse analysis 7
 - 1.4 Organization of this volume 8
2. Methodologies of research in face-to-face interaction 10
 - 2.1 Discourse analysis 11
 - 2.2 Conversation analysis 11
 - 2.3 Ethnography of communication 12
 - 2.4 Interactional sociolinguistics 13
 - 2.5 Elicitation instruments 14
 - 2.6 Role plays 16
 - 2.7 Sociolinguistic interviews 17
 - 2.8 Radio and television talk 18
 - 2.9 Laboratory data
 - 2.10 Data approaches to research in this volume 19
 - 2.11 Conclusion 20

CHAPTER 2

Face-to-face in the family domain	21
-----------------------------------	----

1. Introduction 21
 - 1.1 What do we know about family interaction? 22
 - 1.2 Family talk 22
 - 1.3 Couples talk 30
2. An in-depth example of family speech behavior: Nagging 33
 - 2.1 Methodology 34
 - 2.2 Nagging as a speech event 35
 - 2.3 Topics/themes of nagging 36
 - 2.4 Status and power 37

- 2.5 Gender and nagging 40
- 2.6 Social distance 43
- 2.7 Conclusion 45
- 3. Conclusion: Face-to-face in the family domain 45
- Note 46

CHAPTER 3

Face-to-face in the social domain

47

- 1. Introduction 47
 - 1.1 What do we know about social interaction? 49
 - 1.2 Phatic communication, speech acts, events, and activities 49
 - 1.3 CA and speech activities 62
 - 1.4 Interlocutor variables and ethnographic approaches 64
 - 1.5 Gender and social interaction 65
 - 1.6 What do we know about gender in face-to-face social interaction? 67
- 2. An in-depth analysis of social talk: Conversational joking and identity display 72
 - 2.1 Conversational joking and "joke-telling" 74
 - 2.2 Types of conversational joking 75
 - 2.3 Teasing 75
 - 2.4 Joking about absent others 77
 - 2.5 Self-denigrating humor, or self-teasing 78
 - 2.6 Outcome and function of verbal play 79
 - 2.7 Joking that bonds 80
 - 2.8 Self-denigration as a case of ID 81
 - 2.9 Teasing that bonds: RID and ID 81
 - 2.10 Factors affecting the type of verbal playing 82
 - 2.10.1 Joking and social distance 82
 - 2.10.2 Gender 84
 - 2.11 Conclusion: Conversational joking and identity display 85
- 3. Conclusion: Face-to-face in the social domain 87
- Notes 88

CHAPTER 4

Face-to-face in the education domain

89

1. Introduction 89
 - 1.1 Face-to-face interaction in higher education 90
2. "Yeah right": Sociolinguistic functions of sarcasm in classroom discourse 100
 - 2.1 Introduction and background 100
 - 2.2 The study 101
 - 2.3 Methodology 101
 - 2.4 The uses and targets of sarcasm by professors 102
 - 2.5 Student use of sarcasm and their targets 103
 - 2.6 The functions of sarcasm within the classroom 104
 - 2.7 Positive uses 105
 - 2.8 Negative uses 110
 - 2.9 Neutral uses 115
 - 2.10 Student reactions to sarcasm 117
 - 2.11 Topics that trigger sarcasm 117
 - 2.12 Timing of sarcastic utterances 119
 - 2.13 Responding to sarcasm 121
 - 2.14 Conclusion 122
3. Conclusion: Face-to-face in the educational domain 124
Note 124

CHAPTER 5

Face-to-face in the religious domain

125

1. Introduction 125
 - 1.1 What do we know about religious interaction? 126
2. An ethnography of a Bat/Bar Mitzvah 134
 - 2.1 Introduction 134
 - 2.2 Methodology 134
 - 2.3 Background 136
 - 2.4 The Bat Mitzvah 137
 - 2.4.1 The celebration 140
 - 2.5 The Bar Mitzvah 142
 - 2.6 Conclusion 145
3. Conclusion: Face-to-face in the religious domain 146
Note 146

CHAPTER 6

Face-to-face in the workplace domain 147

1. Introduction 147
 - 1.1 Talk in service encounters 149
 - 1.2 Talk in institutional encounters 154
 - 1.3 Talk at work 156
2. An in-depth analysis of workplace speech behavior:
 Bragging, boasting and bravado: Male banter in a brokerage house 160
 - 2.1 Background 161
 - 2.2 The workplace 162
 - 2.3 Findings 164
 - 2.3.1 Display of superiority 164
 - 2.3.2 Sexual bravado 166
 - 2.3.3 Quick wit, one upsmanship and verbal dueling 168
 - 2.4 Discussion 170
 - 2.5 Conclusion: bragging, boasting and bravado 173
3. Conclusion: Face-to-face in the workplace domain 174

Note 175

CHAPTER 7

Face-to-face in cross-cultural interactions 177

1. Introduction 177
 - 1.1 Cross-cultural interactions in social life 181
 - 1.2 Cross-cultural interactions in work life 185
 - 1.3 Cross-cultural interactions in educational life 189
2. An in-depth analysis of cross-cultural speech behavior 193
 From Outsiders to insiders: Cross-cultural gatekeeping encounters in higher education 193
 - 2.1 Introduction 193
 - 2.2 Background 194
 - 2.3 Method 196
 - 2.4 Gatekeeping encounters in the International Programs Office 197
 - 2.5 Gatekeeping encounters in an English language program 204
 - 2.6 Implications of the study 207
 - 2.7 Conclusion 207
3. Conclusion: Face-to-face in cross cultural interactions 208

Notes 210

CHAPTER 8Conclusion 211

- 1.1 Domains and face-to-face interaction 212
 - 1.1.1 The family domain 212
 - 1.1.2 The social domain 213
 - 1.1.3 The educational domain 215
 - 1.1.4 The religious domain 217
 - 1.1.5 The workplace domain 218
 - 1.1.6 Domains in cross-cultural interaction 219
 - 1.1.7 Applying sociolinguistics 221

Appendix 225Bibliography 227*Index 241